State Will Join In Federal Plan Of School Lunches

Governor Martin Expected To Authorize Commonwealth Participation

STATE'S SHARE TO BE $3,444,788

Plan Is To Guarantee Students Of 5 To 17 Will Not Be Without Lunch

By SUZANNE FLICK (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—Gov. Edward Martin was expected today to authorize the commonwealth's participation in the $75,000,000 federal school lunch program for the benefit of more than 1,800,000 Pennsylvania students.

A spokesman of the governor's office said the commonwealth would sign up for its share of $3,444,788 in federal aid, if sufficient state funds were available for administrative costs. The money would come from appropriations made to the department of public instruction by the 1945 General Assembly, he explained.

Governor To Approve

"The department of public instruction has been advised that if it can find the means, the governor will approve entry into an agreement in connection with the school lunch program," the spokesman said. A department official reported the estimated expenditures "should not stand in the way of signing." He refused to disclose the amount.

John A. Smith, state representative of the U. S. agriculture department, said the department would receive approximately $45,000 to help defray administrative costs.

Other expenses would be paid by participating school districts since the state has no money earmarked for matching lunch funds, it was explained. Some schools operate the program by charging students a small amount, it was added. Federal aid ranges from two cents a half pint of milk to nine cents toward a full lunch.

Pennsylvania and Delaware were the only states which had failed to join the plan, according to Smith.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New was asked by one of the city's old timers what had become of the old sprinkling wagon that plied in the downtown section of the city many years ago. The old horse-drawn sprinkler was popular with the children of the day.

Motorists along Route 224, Tuesday evening, were fooled by an old game that has not been played for some time. A group of young men and secreted themselves in a hollow just off the road, and placed along the berm of the highway. Attached to the tire, was a long rope and every time a motorist would stop, to pick it up, the tire would disappear down over the hill.

Workmen who have been engaged for several weeks in dismantling the interior of the old K of C home on North Jefferson street, have salvaged most of the better materials on the inside of the home and have now begun on the roof. The building will soon be leveled.

Ellis Kegarise of R. D. 1, Pulaski, out in Pulaski township, reported to Pa New Thursday at noon that he can better the record reported previously by Pa New when it comes to growing tomatoes. Mr. Kegarise stated that he had one vine with 52 large tomatoes on it that were just beginning to ripen. He also has 12 vines with a combined total of 422 tomatoes on them.

In most of the remodeling work that is in progress in the downtown area, contractors erect barricades on the ground floor, to protect (Continued on Page Two)

Reparations Issue Causes Sharp Debate

Byrnes Tangles With Vishinsky On Red Attitude Towards Italy

PARIS, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Andrei Vishinsky of the Soviet Union locked horns today on the subject of reparations from defeated Germany. The American delegate objected strenuously to repeated Russian "misrepresentations" of American views.

Byrnes also accused Russia of criticizing Italy simply because that nation has failed to fall into step with Moscow.

The United States secretary of state, speaking to the Paris peace conference amidst stony silence on the part of the Russian bloc, reminded his hearers of American generosity.

CIO Seeks Plan To Curb Prices

High Command Meets In Washington To Plot Inflation Control Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The CIO high command met in Washington today to draw up a program designed to combat inflation and restore price controls.

Several hundred union officials and members of state and local CIO councils were called to Washington for a special emergency conference to discuss inflation, prices, wages and taxes.

Committees of the CIO executive board Wednesday afternoon drew up a program to present to the conference. Philip Murray, CIO president, said he expected most of the committee proposals would be accepted by the conference.

Murray himself attempted to postpone his scheduled appearance before the decontrol board now meeting in Washington until after today's conference. He originally was scheduled to appear before the board, which is deciding on possible price control restorations, at 4 p. m. EST today.

There was little doubt that the controversial subjects of increased wages and other labor-management conference would be brought up at the meeting, although it was not believed either was on the original agenda.

Before the conference opened Murray refused to comment on the possible program or on the wage problem. He said that the CIO itself had little to do with wage increases made by individual unions enjoying a degree of autonomy.

Truman To Cruise During Vacation

Will Spend Two And A Half Weeks Along Eastern Seacoast Starting Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—President Truman will leave Washington tomorrow for a two and one-half weeks cruise in Atlantic waters off New England and along the eastern seaboard.

It will be his first real vacation rest for Mr. Truman since he succeeded to the presidency 16 months ago.

The president will be accompanied by a small White House staff and some of his close advisers. The cruise will last until Labor Day.

Mr. Truman and his party will board the presidential yacht Williamburg early tomorrow afternoon, and will set anchor to head down the Potomac river at 3:30 p. m. EDT.

The cruise will take the president up the Atlantic coast—but out in the Atlantic—to the Narragansett bay area, and thence northward off the Maine coast.

The vacation has been arranged for the chief executive as a complete rest. There will be no public appearances. There will be no political or other speeches.

Mr. Truman may go ashore during (Continued on Page Six)

British Study Truman Proposal

Cabinet Ministers Plumb Counter-Proposal For Palestine Federation

LONDON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—British cabinet ministers studied today President Truman's counter-proposal to the British plan for federation and division of Palestine.

Text of the American note to Prime Minister Attlee was not divulged immediately, but sources close to the government said it contained radical modifications of the original proposals.

The same sources expressed doubt that Mr. Truman's suggestions, particularly those dealing with Jewish immigration, would be accepted as an independent basis for discussion at the projected British talks with Jews and Arabs in London.

The American plan was said to resemble in many respects proposals submitted by the Jewish agency for Palestine. It was said to ask:

Greater Autonomy
1—A greater measure of autonomy for the proposed Jewish state.

2—Enlargement of the Jewish state to include the Negev region, which Zionists claim can be developed completely.

3—Complete control by Jews of immigration into their state, with special loans and credits to be extended to Zionists for this purpose.

It could not be determined immediately whether Mr. Truman's plan would call for termination of the British mandate.

Diplomatic circles believe the American note advocates an increase of 300 square miles to a total of 1,800 for the Zionist province.

Mr. Truman was said to have reiterated he regards the fate of the 100-thousand would-be immigrants to Palestine as an emergency question that must be settled before any long-range plan becomes effective.

US Would Speed Post-War Trade

Experts To Visit World Capitals To Assemble Views On Overall Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The United States planned today an aggressive campaign to speed up action by the world powers on post-war trade and employment plans.

Within the next few days a committee of technical experts will visit many world capitals with a view to ascertaining their special views on the overall trade and employment program originally offered by the United States.

A full fledged world conference to promote free trade, a higher level of employment and freed access to world markets was proposed last fall when the British loan agreement was announced.

It had been planned to hold the conference this fall but numerous complications, including Russian reluctance to go along, make it probable that the date will be much later.

Announcement of the dispatch of the technical economic experts was made by the state department. They will visit the countries which have been invited to an Oct. 15 preparatory economic meeting called by the (Continued on Page Two)

Council Refuses AVC Permission To Erect Booths

Veterans Refused Permit To Have Registration Booths On Street

VET SAYS AVC NOT BONA FIDE

Application of the local American Veterans committee, made through Chairman Andrew Metrie, Jr., for sanction to erect booths here for the purpose of encouraging registration, voting and the committee's membership campaign was refused when council met in city hall today.

The refusal was based upon an opinion rendered by Solicitor Robert White, which stated the city could not legally grant the permit. He explained the street is dedicated for public travel and said "we can only use sidewalk which would be for that purpose."

Mr. Metrie replied that the veterans could procure sanction of abutting property-owners, Solicitor White having stated they controlled the property to the center line, following which Solicitor White explained that to erect booths would require a city permit.

Not Opposed

Mr. Metrie stated the body is not opposed to any movement of any other veterans' organization, it having been stated by Solicitor White that he arrived at his opinion years ago when the American Legion post wanted to blockade a block in North Jefferson street.

The solicitor explained to Mr. Metrie that there would be no objection to the organization procuring space in a vacant lot near to some thoroughfare and asserted (Continued on Page Six)

Outlaw Filipinos Resume Fighting

Hukbalahaps Defy Authority Of Philippine Government Police

MANILA, Aug. 15.—(INS)—A month-long period of comparative quiet in central Luzon was shattered today by a battle between Philippine government military police and members of the outlawed Hukbalahap army.

Reports reaching Manila stated that the military police broke their self-imposed "hands off" policy in central Luzon after a roving Huk band attempted to take over a small town in Pangasinan province.

Military headquarters in Manila said that two companies of MP's were rushed to the town to aid residents who had opposed the entry of the guerrilla band.

No Surrender

The renewed fighting came in the wake of refusal of scattered Hukbalahap chiefs to accept a government demand to surrender arms.

The government, however, was not prepared to start an all-out battle campaign against the Huks. Secretary of the Interior Jose Zulueta gave the Huks a "period of grace" and set deadlines for the surrender of arms. Guerrilla bands were ordered to give up their weapons by Aug. 30 on Luzon, by Aug. 31 in the Visayan Islands and by Sept. 30 on Mindanao.

The government estimates that there are 300,000 "unlicensed" firearms in the Philippines.

Underground Plots Concerted Action

Jewish Leaders Reported Uniting Groups Into "Single Combatant Army"

By REGINALD SEIGEL (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

HAIFA, Aug. 15.—Chiefs of staff of three powerful Jewish underground organizations reportedly met in secret conclave today to plot concerted action against the British.

Reliable Zionist sources said merely that the meeting was "somewhere in the Holy Land."

They were optimistic on the possibility of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Hagannah, and the Stern group mending differences to permit a "general revolt" against the British immigration policy.

Irgun's clandestine radio, "voice of fighting Zion," summoned extremist leaders to the parley as British police wounded three more Jews at Haifa.

The police were in turn stoned by angry Jews who sought to reach (Continued on Page Two)

May Challenge McCarthy Win

Wisconsin Progressives Claim Nomination Unconstitutional

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 15.—(INS)—Diehard Progressive political leaders of Wisconsin indicated today that the legality of the victory of young Joseph McCarthy over U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette would be challenged in the courts.

La Follette supporters prepared to put McCarthy's victory to a Wisconsin constitutional test before the November election.

Circuit Judge McCarthy, of Appleton, a former marine gunner, ended the 41-year La Follette political dynasty in the U. S. senate by defeating the incumbent for the Republican senatorial nomination in yesterday's primaries.

"During Term"

William T. Ewy, editor of the Madison Capital-Times, which strongly supported La Follette's campaign for re-nomination, pointed out that the Wisconsin constitution says:

"Each of the judges of the supreme courts shall hold no office of public trust, except a judicial office during the term for which they are respectively elected, and all votes for either of them for any office, except a judicial office, given by the legislature or the people shall be void."

McCarthy backers, aware since early in the circuit judge's campaign of the constitutional provision, countered with a statement that the U. S. senatorship is a federal office, and they contend that a Wisconsin constitutional provision is not applicable to the case.

But Ewy, in hinting of legal actions, (Continued on Page Two)

Hazleton Dairies Are Hit By Strike

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 15.—(INS)—A serious shortage of milk was anticipated today in the Hazleton area where 11 dairies have been hit by a strike of employees seeking wage increases.

Supplies were sufficient during the first day of the walkout, officials of the struck plants said, but pasteurized milk would be exhausted by today or tomorrow. Striking drivers, members of the teamsters union (AFL), have agreed to haul milk to the Hazleton state hospital and St. Joseph's maternity hospital.

The drivers were joined in the walkout by some inside workers.

The drivers were seeking increases of $2.50 a week to boost wages to $45 plus one per cent of collections. Striking inside workers were after a flat $8.50 increase, union officials said.

One dairy, employing 15 workers, met the union's demands yesterday.

Group To Probe Executive Order On Surplus Goods

Slaughter Implies Administration Violates Surplus Property Laws

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo., whom President Truman "purged," and his House Surplus Property Investigating committee, headed today for a possible clash with the White House.

Slaughter, committee chairman, bluntly announced that his group was attempting to find out whether the administration itself was violating the surplus property laws.

He asked Lt. Gen. Robert Littlejohn, War Assets administrator, to testify later today. Slaughter said the committee had been advised that "an executive order" had been issued which violated the surplus property act.

The congressman, whom President Truman successfully marked out for defeat in the recent Democratic primary in Missouri, when Slaughter failed of renomination, said the committee wanted to learn whether the order was issued by the chief executive.

Slaughter declared that the order gave the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration and the United Nations the same priority consideration in purchasing surplus property as that held by domestic government agencies.

Slaughter said this was contrary to the Surplus Property Act passed by the 79th Congress. He stated:

"It was made clear to govern- (Continued on Page Six)

Musicians Ask Wage Increase

Demand 45 To Fifty Percent For Night Club Work In New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Night club owners prepared to tighten their "payroll belts" today because of a wage increase demand of 45 to 50 per cent lodged by their musicians.

Monte Prosser, Copacabana chief, immediately notified his floor show production staff members and his showgirls that the would be out of a job September 1.

The wage demand was made by the Associated Musicians of Greater New York, Local 802, (AFL) and to all of the city's 1,100 class A, B and C entertainment and eating places.

Billy Rose, Lou Walter and Joe Howard, other big night club operators, admitted the wage demand was "serious" but considered it as the preliminary demand of the musicians submitted for negotiating purposes, Rose said.

"I don't think the musicians are trying to put anyone out of a job," Rose said he would permit union representatives to look at his books and see for themselves that the pay raise asked would throw his place, the Diamond Horseshoe, out of business.

Prosser estimated the pay boost would increase his weekly payroll from $4,400 to $6,600.

Mrs. Roosevelt Unhurt In Crash

Former First Lady Loses Control Of Car En Route To V-J Broadcast

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was resting, apparently unhurt, in her New York City apartment today following a three-car accident on the Saw Mill River Parkway.

Police said the widow of the late president explained she "dozed off at the wheel" for a moment. She was shaken by the crash, but maintained that she was not hurt.

No charges have been preferred against her.

On Way To Station
Mrs. Roosevelt was driving from Hyde Park toward New York to appear on a radio program commemorating the first anniversary of V-J Day. She later informed the station she would not be available.

Four persons suffered injuries. Three were removed to a hospital and the fourth was treated at home.

Police said Mrs. Roosevelt acknowledged that her 1936 sedan crossed the center white line, crashed head-on into one car and sideswiped the second.

Negotiations Fail, NMU Calls Men Off, 15 Ships Immobilized

Union Leaders Predict 3,500 On Strike Shortly—Ore And Coal Shipments Threatened—Companies Claim Ships To Operate—Picket Lines In Action—Freight Shipments Behind Schedule.

By CHARLES J. THOBABEN International News Service Staff Correspondent CLEVELAND, Aug. 15.—The CIO-National Maritime union went out on strike today at 17 companies operating vessels on the Great Lakes and appealed for cooperation from other unions in an attempt to tie up all shipping on the lakes.

The union claimed that 15 ships already were immobilized, but spokesmen for the operators said only two vessels failed to sail on schedule because of the walkout. Spokesmen said these were expected to shove off soon.

Joseph F. Curran, president of the union, arrived in Cleveland by plane this morning to assume personal direction of the strike. He immediately went into a closed meeting with members of the 10-man NMU strike strategy committee, of which he is co-chairman.

The union chief had no comment on the walkout, but scheduled a news conference following the committee session.

In Capital
He had remained in the capital until the strike call became effective at 12:01 EST this morning in a vain effort to win his demands for a 40-hour week, preferential hiring and wage increases of 10 to 18 cents an hour.

The union ordered picket lines to go into action at more than a dozen lake ports. They will seek to block all movements of ships, even those manned by non-union crews.

No violence was reported in the early hours of the walkout.

The union predicted that 3,500 seamen would be idle soon and that others would leave their ships as they reached port. Crew members were reported to have left vessels several hours before the deadline in Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit, Duluth, Milwaukee and Erie, Pa.

The Lake Carriers Association said that early reports of the strike from the various ports indicated that only two vessels had been unable to leave their locks on schedule because of a lack of crew members. A spokesman predicted that those vessels would be unable to replenish their crews and move in a few hours.

Moreover, the NMU at the same time announced that three ships had been tied up at Ashtabula, O. (Continued on Page Two)

Ask Former POW For Depositions

Army War Crimes Branch Wants Former Prisoners Of Japs To Tell Story

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The war crimes branch of the army's civil affairs division today announced a nationwide campaign to obtain evidence from 2,661 former American prisoners of the Japanese to use in the current Tokyo trials.

Both the Veterans administration and the attorney general's office will help the army to take statements from the ex-POWs—including discharged army and navy personnel and civilians.

Eight officers have been sent to the Allied command in Tokyo to supervise the over-all plan. Statements will be collected by the war crimes branch in Washington and then sent on to Japan.

The war crimes branch explained that some statements have already been taken by the ex-prisoners. It has been found, however, that the (Continued on Page Two)

Fifteen Locals Switch To AFL

CIO Furniture Workers Protest Lack Of Action In Ousting Reds

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Fifteen CIO locals switched their affiliations to the AFL today in protest against alleged Communist control and domination in the 41,000-member United Furniture Workers Union.

Sal B. Hoffman, international president of the AFL-Upholsterers International Union in making the disclosure, said "many more" United Furniture locals would soon quit the CIO.

The locals which seceded from the CIO, Hoffman said, are located in Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Indiana, and have a combined membership of 10,000 workers.

In a short time, Hoffman added, additional locals "located all over the United States with the exception of New York, stronghold of the Communists," will join up with the AFL and abandon the CIO.

He denied, however, that the AFL was "raiding" or "warring" on the CIO locals.

Nearby, George Bucher, secretary of the CIO-Philadelphia industrial union council, blamed the "apathy and refusal of Philip Murray, CIO president, to free the furniture workers union of Communist domination" for withdrawal of the locals from the CIO.

These are the days when the candidates can be found where the picketers are, he'll travel by foot or by plane or train, and sometimes he'll drive his car. For these are the times when the votes can be had by meeting the folks at affairs, when people go out for a picnic and fun and shed all their worry and cares. So the candidate wallows in large, toothy smiles as he looks for some votes at the fun; it's the old way, I guess, but it seems to be good, and the weather is just eighty-one.

College Hurries To Get Adequate Housing For Fall

Faculty Homes And Student Dormitories Are Hastily Being Prepared

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 15.—Westminster College authorities, confronted with the task of handling a record enrollment of 1200 students, are moving fast in an effort to solve the housing problem before the opening of the fall term, September 11.

Sites on South Market avenue and Beechwood road have been selected for the eight prefabricated houses to be erected for faculty members, according to President H. L. Cleland. Two of the houses will be erected on South Market and the others on Beechwood.

The sites have been surveyed and it is hoped to break ground this week for the five-room dwellings. If no complications are encountered they will be ready for occupancy shortly after the opening of school.

Work is progressing rapidly on the barracks being constructed on New Castle avenue and Maple avenue for single and married vets. Authorities are hoping they will be ready by the opening of school, providing quarters for 28 married vets and 45 single vets.

Another emergency measure is the conversion of Jeffers Hall, formerly occupied by girls, into a dormitory for veterans. About 40 vets will be taken care of in this way. Another 15 or 20 will be taken care of by the placing of cots in the dance floor of College Hall.

tion to decide the question, asked: "Do they contend that if a candidate for United States senator or for congress spent $200,000 to be elected to congress in violation of the state corrupt practices act, that the state would be powerless to take any action because of the United States senate has the sole power to sit in judgment on such a person?"

Byrne said his question was hypothetical.

No Comment

Neither McCarthy nor LaFollette would comment on the latest development.

Senator LaFollette had said earlier that he will not run as independent in the Nov. 5 election. He also declined comment when asked if he would support McCarthy against the Democratic senatorial Milwaukee.

McCarthy announced plans for a three-day stay "in the north woods." He said he would return Sunday and commence plans for the November election.

The 37-year-old jurist expressed surprise at his strength in the Milwaukee district—a stronghold upon which LaFollette had counted.

In conceding defeat, LaFollette, a veteran of 21-years in the senate, expressed no bitterness over the failure of his political maneuver. LaFollette rejoined the Republican party after dissolving his progressive party recently.

generosity which in terms of billions "saved Europe and helped Russia in particular."

He emphasized that the United States seeks no reparations and repudiated Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's contention that America is seeking economic advantages in Italy and the Mediterranean.

"Peace between the Allies cannot be furthered by ignoring the repeated representations leveled against America on this floor. We object to this misrepresentation of our viewpoints and motives."

"We oppose making small nations the satellites of other states."

Byrnes opened his speech by describing procedure whereby enemy nations were given hearings at the beginning instead of at the end of the conference.

Facilitate Work

"This is commendable and should facilitate the work of the conference. But it cannot be done if our efforts are misrepresented."

"No one has heard with greater regrets than I the rebuffs made against us."

Byrnes said that in the council of foreign ministers all were agreed to harmonize their viewpoints as the best means of avoiding conflicts.

"It was clear to the United States that once the conference met, its advice would be asked in case of differences."

"The Soviet Union took the view not to ask advice of the conference until the Big Four had agreed upon all points."

"There are a number of unsettled points but we object to the manner in which the U. S. R. has misrepresented our views."

Byrnes strongly objected to Soviet charges that the principle of equality in the most-favored nation clause reflects an effort to exploit enemy nations. He said:

"It's been said the clause in question would affect the sovereignty of nations."

Equal Treatment

"On the contrary, no unilateral action would be taken. Finland, Italy and the others only have asked to be given equal treatment for 18 months."

"This will permit all countries to have a certain measure of guarantees against economic pressure. It is the best insurance against economic failure in the world."

"The United States cannot remain indifferent to anything in or out of treaties which would appear to affect the peace and prosperity of the world."

With regard to Soviet-backed charges that Greece is seeking to foment new war, Byrnes said:

"Greece has been criticized by a former enemy country. This is unjust."

The remaining countries are Belgium, Luxembourg, Australia, Brazil, Canada, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Holland, India, New Zealand, South Africa, Norway and Chile.

In those countries they will discuss with local governments their views on specific proposals advanced in the United States project for a world conference. Ostensibly their purpose will be to iron out points of friction which might delay the operation of the conference, when held, and avoid the delays now afflicting the Paris peace conference and other international meetings.

Plan Program

However, observers believed that they would also seek to work out a program for use in the eventuality that Russia decides to pursue a separate economic course.

The fear that Moscow might seek an independent line has long been uppermost in official minds. Russia's activities in making special trade arrangements in Europe from the Balkans to the Mediterranean and in the far east have tended to increase this apprehension.

Moreover, Russia's failure to respond to the U. S. invitation to a preliminary world trade conference at which tariffs would be discussed, was taken to indicate that Moscow would decline to touch on the subject of trade barriers.

On the other hand, Russia did support the calling of the Oct. 15 conference under the UN economic and social council.

governor's office had led him to believe, however, that the agreement may be approved this week.

Pennsylvania's share would include $2,553,381 for food and operating costs and $591,406 for purchase and maintenance of equipment, he reported.

Participating schools and state institutions were in line for food donations under another $13,000,000 program for purchasing surplus food throughout federal agencies, Smith added.

"The purpose of this program is to see that no student between five and 17 years of age goes without lunch," Smith declared. "The majority of lunches cost about 18 cents. Where half of the cost is not met by states or school districts, it is often provided by sponsors, such as the Parent-Teachers Association."

The department of public instruction reported that approximately 700 Pennsylvania schools currently offered either the federal or a similar independent lunch program to 400,000 youngsters. The majority furnished only supplemental items such as milk and butter, it was pointed out.

Most of the plans were operated in cities while the greatest need was in third and fourth school districts, the department said.

Pickets Ring Docks

In Cleveland, pickets ringed one of the huge iron ore docks on the lakefront while an NMU launch patrolled the lake exhorting crew members to abandon the Howard M. Hanna, Jr. A number of seamen, said to be both union and non-union, walked off. Other pickets paraded at a Republic Steel dock on the Cuyahoga river.

Curran issued a statement in which he charged the ship owners with "full responsibility for the strike on the lakes and its resultant impact on the public interest."

The union chief declared that the NMU modified its demands four times but that the owners refused to submit counter-proposals.

A. T. Wood, president of the Lake Carriers Association, accused the NMU of striking for more pay instead of shorter hours. He said that the national maritime act "recognizes it is necessary for safe operation of vessels that the seamen who man them work eight hours a day each day of the week."

Less than 50 of the 340 bulk carriers on the lakes are operated by the 17 companies directly involved in the dispute with the NMU.

However, the union directed its strike call to the crews of all vessels, including passenger ships plying the lakes. It also sought the support of other unions to prevent loading of docked ships.

A prolonged and widespread tieup of the bulk carrier fleet might result in serious hampering of industry, according to observers. They pointed out that up to Aug. 1, the ships had moved 26,710,699 tons of a season goal of 60 million tons of iron ore. Of a 1946 goal of 50 million tons of coal, only 18,272,264 tons had been shipped.

the waterfront area and prevent further deportations of immigrants to detention pens on Cyprus.

Irgun's call to arms demanded that the three underground groups unite into a "single combatant army" and proclaim a sovereign, independent Jewish state.

It said the Jews must fight against two enemies—"The British and time."

Success of the barley was said to rest mainly with the relatively moderate Hagannah faction, which has shunned all previous offer to collaborate with Irgun or the Sternists.

Temper Rise

Jewish tempers were raised to the boiling point by an announcement from Lieut. Gen. Sir A. Cunningham, British high commissioner, that an agreement has been concluded between Britain and UNRRA for the repatriation of Polish refugees in the Holy Land.

An UNRRA representative in Palestine was said to have begun registration of Poles to prepare for such a return.

The British Cruiser Mauritius, meanwhile, has arrived in Haifa harbor with two more refugee ships in tow. The captured blockade runners have 615 illegal immigrants aboard.

Strong British troop reinforcements converted on the Haifa dock area, apparently to assist the transfer of the latest batch of refugees to Cyprus-bound transports.

NITSCHKE-SHAFFER AFTERNOON WEDDING

At a lovely home wedding solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Levine, of 215 East Leasure avenue, Miss Sara Eleanor Nitschke, daughter of Mrs. Charles B. Nitschke and the late Mr. Nitschke, of 906 Marshall avenue, became the bride of Thomas Holland Shaffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Shaffer, of 407 Blaine street.

White gladiolas and delphinium banked the fireplace of the living room before which vows were exchanged with Rev. William Matthews, pastor of the First Congregational church of Conneaut, O., uncle of the groom, officiating.

The bride wore a white silk crepe dress with an orchid and black pencil print design fashioned with a surplus bodice, cap sleeves, a wide draped belt of the same material fastened with a buckle at the waist above the petticoat skirt. She wore a small black hat with a veil, accessories of black patent leather and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Levine, as her sister's attendant, wore a powder blue crepe gown, street-length, slightly draped, and with cap sleeves, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and gladiolas.

Wilson Raub, of Edenburg, was best man for the bridegroom.

A reception for the assemblage of 25 guests followed the ceremony. A tiered wedding cake centered the bride's table and arrangements of summer flowers decorated the rooms.

The newlyweds left by car on a wedding trip to Lake Erie and on their return will take up residence with the bride's mother.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer are graduates of New Castle high school. He received a discharge from service several months ago after four years' service, including 24 months in the ETO.

Out-of-town guests were Rev. and Mrs. William Matthews, of Conneaut, O.; Mrs. John Patton, Mrs. Martha Murphy and Miss Sue Murphy, of Alturas, Fla.

EAST SIDE GARDEN CLUB LUNCHEON

East Side Garden club was entertained Wednesday for 1 o'clock luncheon and its August program at the summer home of Miss Rose McGurk near Rose Point.

Answer to roll call was "Name Your Favorite Frozen Food". Paper of the afternoon, very interesting and informative, was given by Miss Anna Dietterle on the subject, "New Helps for the Housewife".

Mrs. Albert Wilson read a poem "American Biography" by Louise Owen.

Two new members were elected into membership during a brief business meeting over which Mrs. Harold Ferver presided; Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Elizabeth Hartman. One longtime member who will leave September 1 for Washington, D. C., Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant, was presented with a farewell gift from the group.

Mrs. Henry Kipp, of New York City, who is the houseguest of Miss Dietterle, was a special guest.

Mrs. Lillian C. Ward and Mrs. C. R. Bremer were the hostesses.

September meeting of the club will take place at the home of Mrs. Humphrey Richards, Raymond street.

GRAUSO-DeCARIA CHURCH WEDDING

Miss Rose Grauso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grauso, Montgomery avenue, and Dan DeCaria, son of Mr. and Mrs. James DeCaria, of Second street, Ellwood City, were united in marriage on August 10, at 9:30 o'clock, in St. Lucy's church.

Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito officiated and he used the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white satin gown with full marquisette skirt, made entrain, with sweet heart neckline and long sleeves. The gown was designed by Mrs. James DeCaria, the bridegroom's mother.

Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white lilies, centered with an orchid. As her only jewelry, she wore a rhinestone necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Catherine LaRocco, as maid of honor wore a white gown, net over tulle skirt, and matching net headpiece. Her bouquet was of yellow roses.

Bridesmaids, Mary Ellen Kirkwood, Christina DeThomas, and Tess DeCaria, wore white gowns and carried red roses. Connie Lombardo was the guide.

Wally Rocco, of Ellwood City, served as best man. Ushers were: John Santillo, Thomas Lordi, and Carmen Marcello.

Afterwards a reception was held in the Columbus hall. The couple are on a wedding trip in New York City, and upon their return will reside in Ellwood City. Mrs. DeCaria was employed at Smith's Dry Cleaning Company, and Mr. DeCaria is employed at the Tube mill, Ellwood City.

The Army's Blues

It is evidence that the Army is in earnest about breaking down its outdoor caste system when the War department announces that the peacetime winter uniform not only will be worn by all ranks but that the elaborate plans are in the works to make sure that the soldiers and the public will like it.

The War department has made one decision about the new uniform. It will be blue. But whether it is to be solid blue or a two-tone affair has been left open. So has the question of the shade—or shades—to be prescribed, along with the colors of the shirts, ties, socks and shoes to be worn with it. All these matters are to be determined after sentiment has been tested out in the camps and after the public has had a chance to register its reactions.

This project is planned, says the official announcement, to "provide the people of the United States with an Army uniformly attired to be proud of on parade, and also will insure individual soldiers a smart appearance during off-duty periods." That is, the effect must be both military and attractive.

Of course, the choice of blue is significant in itself. For many years the Army has favored olive drab or one of its relatives, on the ground that this color is practical in the field, although the argument lost its force with the advent of brass buttons and officers' "pinks." Now it is acting on the apparent belief that a uniform to be worn by privates and generals alike, in time of peace, can be colorful and yet not too different from civilian wear to seem outlandish.

Hot Lockers

It is the humidity that wilts the spirit as well as the paper this is printed on. See? There's no crackle to either.

So the steaming tropics have wandered up into the temperate zone. Humidity being always a problem in the tropic, do the people there do anything about it? They do. They make sure they have cold liquids to drink and dry clothes to put on. People here in the temperate regions take care to provide means of cooling the drinks. But who will deny that he (or she) has detected mildew on the clothing in the closet during the past week or so? The trouble, it seems, is that people hereabouts do not use pasteurized refrigerators with hot lockers. Even if tropical conditions here do not last very long at a time, there is no reason for not doing an easy and very simple thing to combat excess humidity, it is contended.

This little thing is nothing more than a 25-watt electric bulb that can be kept burning all the time near the floor of the clothes closet, not in contact with the clothing. This makes just enough heat to keep the moisture out, the clothing dry—and to care for the postage stamps and table salt, too, if desired.

A good guess is that there are plenty of hot lockers in the homes of returned servicemen from the South Pacific. One of these fellows says that everyone who had electricity in his tent made himself a hot locker where he kept everything he wished to keep nice and dry, from his leather wallet and extra watch-strap to his sweetheart's picture in the fancy case. He could open the door to look at her, but had to shut her up again quickly before the jungle-rot got her.

Needed Survey

It was sound advice which Alfred Schindler, undersecretary of commerce, gave business the other day when he urged American producers and distributors to make a careful survey of orders on their books with a view to eliminating those which are fictitious or duplicates. Cancellations now, he told the Commerce and Industry Association of New York, would prove less costly than similar action at a later date.

The policy which Mr. Schindler recommends is particularly applicable to those industries manufacturing commodities which long have been in short supply. Prime examples are automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines and certain other home appliances. Many people need these things so badly that they have not hesitated to place their orders for them with several different concerns. According to Mr. Schindler, a spot check in one part of the country disclosed that as many as one-third of these orders were pure duplications.

Clearly enough it will be expensive for business if it fails to calculate with reasonable accuracy the demand for its products. Nor will it be good for the country, either. The only results, both of them unfortunate, will be excessive inventories and overproduction. In the interest of sound business, the survey of orders which Mr. Schindler suggests seems eminently desirable.

Too Many Clothes

Midsummer days described by the weather man as "warm and humid" make the city-dweller, toiling at his job, run a finger inside his damp shirt-collar and think wistfully of the vacation behind him or the holiday still to come. Thinking so, it may occur to him that he and his fellows are not quite sane about the way they order their lives. Here he is in a stifling box of an office in the middle of walls and pavements that hold and multiply the heat of the sun, wearing two or three layers of clothing on his protesting body. And a few miles away, at a watering spot or in the mountains, people with nothing to do but enjoy themselves are clad in the scantiest attire. If the situation could be reversed it would be more reasonable.

Meat prices in one eastern city have dropped below previous OPA levels. Score one round for that old standby, supply and demand.

The report that mosquitoes are scarcer this year was not circulated by any gardener who works in his plot about sundown.

Large cities are planning to store cars underground. Many seen on the road seem to be ready for burial.

Health Talks

FATS IN SUMMER
It seems that people need food in summer as well as in winter.

Some of the food elements are needed by the body in about the same amounts all the year around. Protein is needed in warm weather just about the same as in cold. It provides building and repair material. It seems also to help protect the body from infection. Starch and sugar are needed all the time to supply energy for work to be done.

Fats may perhaps be reduced in amount in summer time. Fats are provided by butter, cream, cheese, vegetable oils and animal fats.

A certain amount of fats is needed to keep the skin in good condition and to help to utilize vitamins.

It is probably pretty safe to cut down on fats considerably in summer time.

The State Police Say:

State Police records in Troop D for the first six months of 1946 show that 565 accidents were investigated in which 44 persons were killed and 446 were injured. Of those killed, 16 were pedestrians. The three outstanding causes of accidents are driving left of center, "too fast for conditions," and the drinking driver.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

No Food Surpluses If Properly Done

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Still another international conference is to open in the city of Copenhagen in early September. Instead of political boundaries and national rivalries, this conference will deal with a subject as old as mankind—food and hunger.

Forty-two member countries of the food and agriculture organization of the United Nations will send delegates to the Danish capital. They will have before them a proposal that is breathtaking in its boldness.

Scotch Plan

Sir John Boyd Orr, head of FAO, a pioneering Scotsman who knows the food habits of the peoples of the earth as a rancher knows his own cattle herds, is the author of the plan. It proposes a world food board to set minimum and maximum prices for the chief food commodities.

The board would have a fund at its disposal to buy up surplus commodities when surpluses threatened to send the price down below the cost of production. Similarly, the board would hold surplus stocks and release them when prices began to skyrocket.

The object is to get food production up to the highest possible levels and keep it there. It is the ever-normal granary—the dream of Joseph in Egypt—applied not to a single nation but to the world.

Because of its daring, the plan has frightened the wits out of a great many solid citizens here and in London. Commodity dealers look on it with horror, since it would end speculation in commodities. Admittedly the Orr plan is vague in certain particulars.

Conspicuously it omits to say where the money will come from to provide a revolving fund. That gives the smart boys a chance to say that Uncle Sam is to be tapped again.

Admittedly there are some big ifs in connection with the proposal. That would be natural, since man has never before tried to think in terms of getting more for hungry people everywhere to eat.

No Surpluses

"The need for additional food," says the FAO in a report on the proposed food board, "is so great that, if human requirements could be translated into economic demand, there would be no question of surpluses of the basic foods."

That's an if of staggering dimensions. It poses the basic problem that the Copenhagen conference will consider. It is the essential problem of our time—how to distribute the vast outpouring of goods which modern science and technology can create.

Top policy-makers in Washington and London look skeptically on the Orr plan. The day after it was made public, there were inspired news stories saying that President Truman's cabinet had rejected it and that the United States delegate to Copenhagen would oppose it at the conference.

That appears to be an over-simplification of what actually happened. The cabinet merely agreed to take the plan under consideration. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson, who has the viewpoint of the producer, would inevitably oppose it.

This is what seems likely to happen. The British and American delegates will go to Copenhagen agreed upon an alternate plan. They will argue that the Orr proposal is so far-reaching it could not possibly win acceptance by the member nations of FAO.

Therefore, without an alternate plan, the conference would merely bog down, with the "have not" nations arguing for Sir John's proposal and the "have" nations opposed to it. That kind of stalemate might jeopardize the future of FAO.

Propose Commission

If present plans are followed, Britain and the United States will propose formation of a commission to study the possibility of creating a world food board with extensive powers. Obviously, that would be a stopgap.

The hungry nations would certainly cry out against it. They are faced with facts, not theories. UNRRA in Europe will close down on January 1. Tentative plans have been made for various organizations to take over from UNRRA. But they are a meager and uncertain sound. For at least four years, and perhaps much longer, levels of food consumption in large areas will be far below those of 1939.

Sir John's concept of a world food board—an ever-normal granary stretching around the globe—may be too bold. But on the other hand, a commission to conduct still another study is too timid. Something more than that will be expected from the delegates who meet in Copenhagen.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I had a rather unusual letter in this morning's mail.

"Why is it," asked the writer, a widow of sixty, who does not want me to use her name "that a girl of sixteen can have lots of boy friends without attracting attention, but whenever some poor old man away past middle age stops for a moment to talk with a woman, all the neighbors wonder when the wedding will be and what can they be thinking of at their age?"

"In other words, why does a maid of sixteen attract less attention than a woman of sixty?"

Well, my dear widow of sixty, I think the answer is quite obvious. For instance, how would you look on a dance floor doing a jive with your swain of "away past sixty"?

And how would you look in bobby socks and slacks with the bottoms rolled up?

Would it be cute to see you—as I saw two youngsters in the drug store yesterday—sharing an ice-cream soda with your boy friend—both using the same glass but two straws?

Don't forget, please, that what is sweet and cute in youth is awfully silly in middle age (to be optimistic) or in old age.

I don't think that anybody pays the slightest attention to a woman of sixty and a man of sixty-five talking together.

But if they moon and spoon and swoon, that isn't only silly but disgusting.

Elderly people, as we all know, are very insistent upon their prerogatives.

They expect privileges that are denied to the young. They want to be respected and expect their judgment to be honored because of their age.

Youth has its own prerogatives.

Youth has life before it, age has had its life.

The trouble with so many people is that they don't realize that they were young once.

They had their romance, their follies, their moonlight and roses.

Now let those who are young today have what you had yesterday. Look at Bernard Shaw. At ninety he is still a mental giant!

But what a pygmy he would appear to be if you saw him sitting on a park bench, making love to a sixty-year old woman!

So my advice to you, dear lady, is to act like sixty if you are sixty, in other words:

Be your age! (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

Sometime ago we kinda mentioned in this column that some word had been passing around in difference to the building of a new City building. . . to date no one has put into writing a complaint. . . in fact we haven't heard it mentioned for several weeks. In that case city fathers it seems that the people haven't anything against your idea of building at the corner of Jefferson and Grant.

We would like to see the time when all parking in restricted zones would be eliminated. . . Alleys are no place to park. . . yet today there were cars parked in alleys and areas that were plainly marked. . . NO PARKING. . . Perhaps some folks think these signs are meant for other motorists. If no parking could be established on East Street between North and Washington streets. . . some congestion could be eliminated.

And if the buses would attempt to a wee extent, obey traffic laws and regulations there wouldn't be as many autos flying from motorists and those who use the sidewalk. We agree that bus transportation should be hastened through traffic to some extent. . . but just out and out running traffic lights is against our way of thinking. . . and from letters we have received from the town. . . we are not alone on this thought.

Council we see have introduced a thought whereby some day they might consent to procure another bridge in town. . . Come now ladies let's see some action. We can't afford to spend the next fifteen years in getting a bridge to relieve our truck traffic. . . even though we did spend fifteen years in getting Taylor street paved. Now is the time to play your trump cards and we think that one of them would be solving the traffic problem.

We feel sorry for the spectators down at the corner of Mercer and Washington streets. . . no one has provided them with seats and in order that they don't become too tired standing it is necessary for the "experts" to take a little trip around the corner. Sad the life that some people must lead. . . ah yes, life can be so mean. . . just think no seats so one can watch other work.

Unlikely To Call Special Session

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—A GOOD deal has been written about Mr. Truman's threat or warning or promise—whichever you choose to call it—to bring Congress back in special session later this summer to strengthen price controls if the somewhat silly OPA bill, which he finally signed, should prove "inadequate."

SOME rather dire prophecies have been made as to what would happen then. Congress, resentful, it was declared, would reject every presidential recommendation. The labor lobbies would rush in with new demands. Various things that had better be left undone would be done. Those who are concerned about these particular prospects—and others of a similar nature—can dismiss their apprehensions. Mr. Truman will call no special session this year. He never intended to.

THAT threat, warning or promise was very largely a face-saving gesture. It was well calculated to act as a restraint upon manufacturers and merchants with a tendency to raise prices unreasonably in the absence of ceilings, and it emphasized the President's reluctance to approve so stupid a bill. But he did not really mean it. Moreover, every member of Congress understands he didn't. Not one of them is in the least degree worried about being called back—certainly not before election day in November. If they thought there was any chance of that they would, indeed, be mad as hatters. All of them, except the 64 senators whose terms do not expire next year have either a primary or a general election contest on their hands—some of them both. Under such conditions to be brought back to Washington before November would border on brutality—or so it would seem to them.

AND Mr. Truman wants them back just as little as they want to come back. Every President is relieved (Continued on Page Ten)

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph. D.

PREPARE CHILD TO START SCHOOL

Fortunate the child who will be well-prepared physically and emotionally when in September he has his first day at school. If he has had proper medical and dental care, has been practiced in good habits of sleeping and of eating healthily the proper food; if he has learned to respect the rights of others and due regard for authority; and if he has learned to get on well with other children of about his age, he has favorable preparation.

Getting on happily with other children, he should be fairly self-reliant and not too closely tied to his mother's apron strings. Even in the few remaining weeks, he might have some good preparation in these directions.

Play With Children

Having played freely with other children, he hardly will use much "baby talk." He will tend to speak about as other children do. Also, he should be pretty well-prepared to get on well with his school-mates and to have little or no fear of bullies.

If your child has been a "mamma's boy" or "mamma's girl," you had better begin at once on weaning him from you, or he will have many unhappy times in connection with school. Even in the few remaining weeks, you might help him to be comfortable out of your sight, and to have some happy times with other children of his age.

During this brief interval, too, you might well check on your child's habits of making sure he has proper discipline. Well, moreover, to work in these directions after he enters school.

Be sure to read to him some every day. As he learns to listen eagerly while you read, he is getting preparation for listening to what his teacher will say at school. No better training, too, in good habits of concentration. In case he has been encouraged to build and create with playthings, and to draw and color, he will have useful practice for much he will do at school.

Learning Numbers

Naturally, he has heard numbers used and may have learned to count up to five or ten. Such learning may prove of great value to him at school. In case he enters the first grade, having played with alphabet blocks and being able to recognize a few of the letters should also prove useful.

However, he won't need to know the alphabet in order till he begins the use of a dictionary. Create in your child a happy, hopeful attitude toward his teacher and the school. He should be able to take stock of how calm and excitable he is, of the quantity and quality of sleep. Get the early, regular bedtime habit well-established before school opens and keep it going well thereafter. My bulletin, "Desirable Hours of Sleep at the Various Ages," may be had in a stamped envelope.

Don't try to prove your child at school under the legal age. Better that he should begin school a few months later than the average age for entrance than that he should enter younger.

Wise are the parents of children seven, twelve or seventeen who have the doctor and dentist check them before they return to school; also, several times during the school year. My bulletin, "Parents Can Help the Child Succeed at School," may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

Truman May Not Need To Call Congress Back
Had Warned Of Such Action To Curb Inflation
Spanish "Scotch" Irks Scotch "Scotch" Makers

(Special to Central Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Political observers now are giving odds that President Truman will not feel forced to call the 79th Congress back into special session to combat inflation.

The president warned when he reluctantly signed the OPA revival bill that he would take such action if the law, as he feared, failed to curb prices.

Whatever the decontrol board decides to do about restoring ceilings to meats, dairy products and other commodities, it begins to appear to most observers that runaway inflation has not come.

Producers and slaughterers, wholesalers and processors are only too anxious to liquidate OPA and get back to normal. They have no desire, generally, to adopt a get-rich-quick policy over a brief span only to find themselves handcuffed by permanent price controls.

If things should get out of hand before the fall elections, and the administration calls Congress back, the legislators, heeding the angry voice of the voters back home, will not hesitate to enact a law as drastic as the president wants it to be. Spain Makes "Scotch"

The part that alcohol plays in the diplomatic field through its generally wide dispensation at parties and receptions is well known. Now that a world shortage is here it is playing another and different role as nations jealously guard the good repute of their favorite brands.

It reached the open recently when the British ambassador to Madrid filed a strong protest with the Spanish government for selling as "Scotch" a whiskey made in Spain. Of course, Britain has used Scotch so much in her export trade that it was regarded merely as good business to protect the name of "Scotch" as anyone can attest who has tried some of the substitutes.

However, the protest did not sit well with the Spanish, who have a considerable pride in some of their own well-known brands. They answered that, since the world is as it is, you couldn't blame people for knowing what their thirsts demanded and if England couldn't furnish Scotch "Scotch" then Spaniards would stake their thirst with their own "Scotch" even if the "Made in Spain" was in diminutive print at the bottom of the label.

Controls Still Cause Clashes
Washington observers are noting that the old clash over price controls between the agriculture department and OPA is being renewed under the new OPA law. The OPA is anxious to place all farm commodities, with the exception perhaps, of eggs and poultry, back under control August 21—the earliest allowed under the new law. It is known that the agriculture department and Secretary Anderson are substantially more "decontrol" minded. They wish to move slowly but also seek to keep controls on foods only when vitally necessary to prevent the inflationary spiral from booming.

Meanwhile, the major farm organizations seem to "like the looks" of the new price decontrol board set up by President Truman. The National Grange considers the board "open minded."

The board meets August 12 to begin hearings on which to base its decisions.

Huge Wheat Crop Inadequate
Despite an anticipated record wheat crop in the United States and huge yields in other wheat-producing countries, there still may not be enough of the grain to prevent serious famine in some areas.

The United States, Canada, Turkey, Argentina, France and French North Africa have reported favorable conditions for sizable crops this year. But Germany, Austria, Hungary and Poland have little to offer.

Except for two other countries, the large wheat producers might be able to solve the problems of the needy nations. But India and China, both in desperate straits, will still be able to absorb most of the surplus, which other countries can contribute.

COUNCIL REFUSES AVC PERMISSION TO ERECT BOOTHS

that if erection of the booths on Public Square and Long avenue was allowed it would be a "special privilege."

Mr. Metrie stated he did not desire to debate the question but added that because the urging by the American Veterans committee to veterans to register and vote is a national campaign to render public service "we hope to make a national issue of it." He then asked: "Is the application refused?"

"Yes," replied Mayor John F. Haven.

The mayor instructed City Clerk Jack Fritz to call the roll.

When the name of Property Director Joseph D. Alexander was called, he answered: "No, upon advice of the city solicitor."

Bell Speaks

It was then that James A. Bell, army engineer in World War I and a member of a local V. F. W. post, addressed the body, stating:

"Gentlemen, this is not a bonafide veterans' organization, because in it are men who served in the Merchant Marine. It has been refused a charter in California. It is headed by men who headed the Economy league who removed benefits for Spanish-American war and World War I veterans."

"The plan to urge registration and voting is worthwhile, but how do we know they are not going to tell veterans how to vote? The American Legion and V. F. W. never sponsored it."

"I think this outfit will bear a lot of scrutiny before you grant them any privilege."

After Mr. Bell concluded, the roll call of council was continued, all members voting unanimously to refuse the request.

ing the cruise. But if he does such brief excursions probably will be unbridled and will be in the nature of leg-stretches.

The cruise has been arranged to give the president a rest after 16 arduous months in the White House. During this time he saw the victory over Germany, went to the Potsdam conference, saw the Berlin, saw the capitulation of Japan and then came a year of domestic turmoil and strife between labor and management.

With Congress in recess and labor-management strife eased, the president felt that at last he could leave the White House for a rest.

Mr. Truman will take with him on the Williamsburg members of his staff, Ted Marks, an old friend from Missouri, and George E. Allen, a presidential adviser and director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

To Cite Fields

Before Littlejohn takes the witness stand, however, the committee was prepared to tackle the case of a recalcitrant witness, Benjamin P. Fields, Washington promoter, broker and public relations man.

Slaughter said Fields would be cited to House Speaker Rayburn for contempt unless he produced by 10 a. m. EST books and records subpoenaed by the committee.

Fields denied Wednesday that he had the books and records, but the committee established to its own satisfaction that they existed through questioning of Fields' auditor, Ted R. Storm, Washington public accountant.

State Association For Blind Expects To Have Branch Here

Organization Seeks Funds To Establish Workshop, Training School For Sightless

Attempting to provide services and activities heretofore unavailable, the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind is organizing and installing a branch for Lawrence county. The location of the branch, which will be in New Castle, has not been definitely selected.

In older branches, industrial workshops have been established where the blind can be trained and employed on a permanent basis in: rug weaving on manual looms, broom, mop, or brush making; chair caning; basket weaving; sewing projects and leather craft assembly; rubber tread mat assembly; instruction in salesmanship, typing, and the reading and writing of Braille. The Lawrence county branch expects to provide many of the same activities as soon as funds and facilities are available.

Those who are unable to take part in activities in the workshop may work in their own home, with the branch providing materials and instruction so that the clients may become industrially productive through home teaching service. Gradually a placement service will be undertaken for those who do not wish to continue in the workshop. A Prevention of Blindness program will also be planned in collaboration with existing facilities, and the well-being of the partially-sighted persons of the community will also be of interest. Financial and moral support both will be needed from the community, the Association states. The group will work in connection with all lay and professional groups and service clubs.

"Be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving each other."—Ephesians 4:32

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 18 is Exodus 20:13; Proverbs 1:10-19, 3:29-33; Isaiah 59:1-9; Matthew 5:21-24, 10:29-31, 18:1-7, 10:14; Luke 9:51-56; Ephesians 4:32. The Memory Verse being Ephesians 4:32. "Be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving each other.")

"Thou shalt not kill." That is the sixth and one of the shortest of the commandments.

There has been so much killing in the last few years, even the children must have heard of it, although we hope they haven't heard of the many horrors with which older people have been shocked. Children get angry, but with most of them it is short-lived anger—over in a moment, and they are playing together again with everything forgotten. It is only adults who cherish their anger and "won't speak" to each other maybe for years. There are many ways in which people kill each other today. Not only in war, but in fierce anger at fancied wrongs, or real ones. By being careless in driving automobiles; by persuading others to drink until they do not know what they are doing and commit crimes; even murder. By careless handling of dangerous weapons and leaving them where children can reach them. Everyone should impress this commandment on his mind.

There are many temptations to crime, even while we are being assured it "does not pay" and ends in dire punishment. At the beginning of the Book of Proverbs warnings are given against the causes that may lead to crime and possible murder.

"My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not. . . For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood." And the warning follows that these sinners are really destroying their own lives when they plot crimes against others.

Isaiah's Warning
Isaiah added his warning in his own beautiful language: "Behold the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear. . . But your iniquities have separated you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you, that He will not hear."

Jesus went farther than Old Testament writers in defining wrongdoing. He said, after reminding them of the commandment not to kill, "But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council; but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire."

The word "Raca" has not been translated, but is thought to be a slang word which may have been uttered in irritation. Anger often leads to murder, and if these words of our Lord could come to our thoughts when fierce anger assails us, many a crime would be prevented. These sayings of Jesus should be impressed on every child's mind, and self-control earnestly and consistently taught them.

Jesus reminds us of the importance of the individual. He tells us not to fear anything but God's displeasure, and to trust in His love because not even a little sparrow falls to the ground without the Father, and even the hairs of our head are numbered.

Luke tells us of the time Jesus was traveling toward Jerusalem and sent James and John to make preparation for His visit to a village. The Samaritans did not receive Him, however, and the two disciples were angry at the slight to their Lord and asked Him if he would not bring fire down from heaven to destroy these inhospitable people.

Jesus rebuked them, saying, "The Son of Man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them." They then went on to another village.

In recent lessons we have had the story of the disciples' argument about who should be greatest in the kingdom of heaven, and the little child that Jesus set in their midst, saying "Whoso humbly himself as this little child, the same is the greatest." And also, "Take heed how ye despise these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of My Father which is in heaven."

And He reminds them that if a man had an hundred sheep and one was missing, he would search until he found it and brought it back into the fold. "Even so it is not the will of your Father, which is in heaven that one of these little ones should perish."

To sum up this lesson, Paul, writing to the Ephesians, said, "Let all bitterness, and wrath and anger, and clamor, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice." This is not included in our lesson, but this writer could not forbear from quoting it, as well as our Memory Verse, because it is so pertinent to the lessons the prophets and Jesus taught.

"And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of filter tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The following instructors have returned from leave: Anne Rice, Washington junior high, and Ruth Sample, senior high, from sabbatical leave. Mrs. Rebecca Stewart, Magill school, maternity leave; Joseph Lockley, senior high, emergency leave; Christine Perrotta, separated from the service, will resume her duties with the Mahoning school; and Katherine Luerer hopes to be released from the service to return to the Oak street school in October. It was decided to consider theft and burglary insurance on school equipment at a later date, following further investigation of rates and total coverage.

Supplemental contracts for the following teachers were approved by the board: Leona Crenney, North; Grace McCabe, Lincoln; Garfield; and Elsie Wascko, Mahoning. Basic salary is $2300, cost of living allowance, and supplemental total, $200, making a total salary of $2500.

Medical Inspector Boost.
Recommendation of the superintendent that the salary of the medical inspector be increased to $3,500 was turned down by the board, but a $10 per month cost of living increase was granted, with the basic salary remaining at $3,000.

It was announced that Dr. Benjamin Levin and Dr. T. J. McFadden, dentists, will administer the school health act, the former working in the mornings, and the latter in the afternoons. Doctors have not been determined as yet.

Comparative report of the school cafeteria system, submitted by Rachel P. Taylor, was perused by the board, and a price increase to offset the rise in foodstuff costs was agreed upon. It was decided to increase the prices of items on the menu not more than 25 per cent of the total of the 1946-47 season, these prices to be worked out by the cafeteria director.

Salary for the police and attendance officer was set at $1,920 basic, plus the cost of living sum of $120. Robert L. Stewart was named to this post.

The day will also be Butler County day at the home. This celebration is for the benefit of the proposed new chapel which will be erected in Grove City.

Scarcity Or Not, Liquor Sales Show Increase In Year

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Despite the scarcity of popular brands and restricted purchases, Pennsylvania's liquor monopoly was reported today to have earned $43,000,000 during the fiscal year ended May 31.

A state liquor control board spokesman said the state's 574 stores showed a net profit of $28,609,217 from the 48 per cent markup on retail prices.

An additional $14,472,700 was listed as profit from the 10 per cent applied to the 48 per cent markup, the spokesman added.

During the fiscal year, gross state store sales totaled $201,375,968 compared with $162,345,902 the previous year. Profits increased $10,000,000 and tax receipts were approximately $2,500,000 greater. The money was placed in the commonwealth's general fund.

Local Man Helped Handle Atomic Reels

Pvt. Harry E. Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jordan of R. D. 1, is spending a few days at his home here on delayed leave. He has just completed a year and a half in the Air Corps and has re-enlisted for another year. He is being transferred from Lowry Field, Denver, Col., to Langley Field, Va.

Pvt. Jordan was a member of the B-29 crew which carried the picture reels and records of the recent atomic bomb tests in the Pacific.

Indian legends of its existence fired Ponce de Leon's imagination. But though he searched patiently, he never found the wonderful fountain. We smile at the old explorer's gullibility.—Yet the idea of extended youth and vigor, per se, is no longer considered fantastic or ridiculous. Modern medical science is taking amazing strides towards the postponement of old age—the SAME goal that Ponce de Leon, with 16th century superstition, sought so hopelessly. . . . And that's another reason why your doctor and we eagerly anticipate science's future developments, and their benefits to you.

Demobilization For Navy To End On September 1

Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal announced today that since V-J Day the navy has demobilized from the commissioned and enlisted personnel of the navy and marine corps 3,324,620 persons. He further stated that during the month of August an additional 231,250 will be released from the service. This represents an aggregate of more than three and one-half million people demobilized from the navy and marine corps from August 14, 1945, to September 1, 1946.

With two minor exceptions the navy's demobilization program has gone entirely in accordance with the schedule. Recently it was announced that medical corps officers who received all or part of their medical education at government expense are required to serve 24 months on active duty as commissioned officers. The active duty requirement for reserve dental corps officers is to be reduced from 36 to 30 months on September 1. This action in retaining medical corps and dental corps officers beyond September 1 was necessitated by a critical shortage in both branches.

Brownshirt Leader Says Group Showed Christian Spirit

NUERNBERG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Max Juetner, arrogant and defiant deputy chief of staff of the Nazi SA Brownshirts asserted before the war crimes tribunal Wednesday that his group "represented the spirit of positive Christianity."

British prosecutor Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe countered the testimony of Juetner by introducing numerous documents linking the SA with exterminations and other atrocities, including the murder of 10,000 Jews at Wilno.

Juetner denied that the Brownshirts were trained for an aggressive war. He said the SA did not oppose churches but on the contrary the bulk of the membership and most of its leaders were church members, including Ernest Roelme who was liquidated in the blood purge of 1934.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

power of the original jurisdiction to the Supreme Court, but no where in the Constitution was that power given to the Supreme Court. The Constitution particularly limited the power of the Supreme Court to those powers laid down in Article III.

In all cases affecting Ambassadors, other public Ministers and Consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all other cases before mentioned (Section 1 and (Section 2), the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to Law and Fact, with such exceptions, and under such regulations, as the Congress shall make."

Marshall went on to say in his Decision that an Act of Congress repugnant to the Constitution cannot become a law and that the Courts of the United States are bound to take notice of the Constitution; the President of the nation, all officers of the law and all citizens are bound to take notice of the Constitution. But he said that while Marbury had a perfect right to the delivery of his commission, an Act of Congress giving the Court original jurisdiction in any other matter than particularly described in the Constitution was null and void. That was the principal which John Marshall, with marvelous argument made a part of the Decision in the case of Marbury vs. Madison—a Decision which has stood the test of time and a Decision which made a real Union of the States.

Thomas Jefferson little thought that his act in directing Madison to refuse to give Marbury his commission, which was a slap at John Adams and the Federalists, would result in a Decision by the Supreme Court that the Supreme Court had the absolute power to declare unconstitutional the acts of Congress, and tell the President how far he could go.

Thomas Jefferson was thoroughly enraged at the Decision and during the rest of his life, as President and as a private citizen, waged a war on the Supreme Court of the United States.

Westinghouse Announces Huge Expansion Plan

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(INS)—President Gwilym A. Price of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Wednesday announced a $120,000,000 financial plan to provide for plant expansion and rearrangement program for increased working capital requirements resulting from expected peacetime production.

Price said that the company's expansion program involves the purchase of additional plants and equipment, construction of additions to present plants and the rearrangement of these expanded facilities to meet expected peacetime sales.

The corporation president said that the new facilities will provide the company by 1948 with a capacity of more than double its prewar production.

United Company Gives Six Month Profits, Losses

United Engineering and Foundry company today announced their profit and loss statement for the six-month period ending June 30, 1946.

Operations of the company were affected by strikes in its own plants and those of its suppliers during the period, F. C. Biggart, Jr., chairman, stated.

For the period the company showed a net profit of $673,176, equal, after preferred dividends, to 79 cents per share on the 320,746 shares of common stock outstanding compared with $1,115,916, or $1.33 per common share, in the corresponding period of 1945. The consolidated net profit included a carry-back of excess profits credit amounting to $570,000 in the 1946 period, compared with $126,000 a year earlier.

WOMAN SURPRISED POLICE SEARCHED STREAM FOR HER

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Aug. 15.—(INS)—Mrs. Carrie Smeltz, 43, busied around the little restaurant in Middletown where she was working Wednesday, and voiced surprise when told that police had dragged Conestoga creek for her body.

She was unable, however, to explain an "end it all" note in her handwriting found with some clothes she had left at her home in Lancaster when she left several months ago. Neither did she explain clothes apparently hers, found on the banks of the stream.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

not to have Congress in session. Life at the White House is always smoother when it is absent. The situation today in that respect is no different than it always has been. The idea that, as a result of his veto, first of the Case bill and then of the original OPA bill, together with his strong and pointed messages in which he upbraided Congress both for action and for inaction, relations between the President and Congress are bad, is not well founded.

FOR example, it has been contended that Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the Senate majority leader, feels aggrieved at the course of the President, and that the House leaders likewise are disposed to consider that he had treated them—and Congress as a whole—rather harshly.

Do FALSE TEETH

Rock, Slide or Slip? FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Cleans "false odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Perhaps, there were some who did feel that way sometime back, though they gave no outward evidence thereof. But, when they left Washington after adjournment, certainly they exhibited neither publicly nor privately, any trace of bitterness or bad feeling. Actually, though Congress failed to do some of the things Mr. Truman wanted and did quite a few he did not want—and will do both again—personally, he is pretty popular in both branches.

NO ONE in either party appears to hate him personally—unless it is Representative Slaughter, whose re-nomination in Missouri he opposed and whose defeat somewhat enhanced his prestige. This is in great contrast with the feeling toward his predecessor. In the Roosevelt day Congress was full of members—many of them Democrats—who personally disliked, distrusted and despised Mr. Roosevelt personally—supported him only because of personal and party necessity. It is fair and it is accurate to say that not only are Mr. Truman's personal relations with Congress better than Mr. Roosevelt's but his influence is no less potent than was Mr. Roosevelt's after 1940.

IT is also extremely likely that if Mr. Truman had the vast patronage and unlimited money to distribute which Mr. Roosevelt had in his first two terms, he would have just as much as Mr. Roosevelt had then. In other words, though Mr. Truman has no great personal following such as Mr. Roosevelt had and lacks, too, that gentleman's talent for personal dramatization and showmanship, it is a mistake to regard him as a flop in Congress or a noisily in the White House, albeit that is the picture which the so-called "liberal" journalists and the left-wing labor press agencies persistently present.

AS A MATTER of fact, Mr. Truman has more stuff on the ball and is considerably more of a man than he is generally credited with—has much better qualities than one would suspect from all of his critics—and some of his friends. He is not brilliant and he is not a great man—and does not pretend to be, either. But he has descent instincts, plenty of common sense and real personal courage.

age. He is off on the wrong foot with these domestic "Roosevelt policies" which are largely responsible for the mess he has inherited, which were inherently unsound in the first place and ought now to be abandoned as proven futile and foolish. Once he is weaned from these "policies" he ought to make a good President—and the sooner, the better for him and for the country. At any rate, there is no trace of malevolence about the man, and his family is not on the "make." That, at least, is a gain.

No Decision On Washington Coaching Post

Superintendent To Fill Post, Board Rules; Other Personnel Changes In System

Members of the New Castle district school board, meeting in their regular monthly session Wednesday night, did not reach any definite decision on the coaching vacancy at George Washington junior high school, and following discussion, ruled that the post be filled at the discretion of Superintendent Frank L. Burton.

With the resignation of Harry L. Davis, who has left the system to accept a position with the General Tire and Rubber company, it was decided to absorb Arthur Alexander into the academic schedule, and acquire a new teacher for physical education who to coach all sports.

Application of LeRoy M. Norton, Mats, Pa., and former teacher of this city, was withdrawn by a unanimous vote of the board. It was decided to permit Superintendent Burton to fill the coaching post from present members of the system at the salary of $150 for football, $100 for basketball and $100 for track.

Besides the resignation of Harry L. Davis, the board accepted the resignations of the following additional instructors: Ralph E. Lengerman, senior high, to accept an assistant professorship at Westminster college; Thomas E. Grenier, Mahoning school, to enter the insurance business; and Bertha Bona Thompson, Oak street school, resignation—she is residing in another state.

At the same time the application of Jean McClure, 220 E. Lincoln avenue, was accepted. She will teach at the Mahoning school.

Sabbatical leave was granted to Miss Martha Smith of the Oak street school for the first half of the 1946-47 school year for the restoration of her health, and to Lucille Lutton, Rose avenue school, for one year, to attend classes at Colorado University.

North Beaver Board Names New Teachers

Two teachers were elected by the North Beaver township school board when they met at a regular meeting on Monday night.

Those elected will teach the elementary grades, Joe Gilmore, president of the board announced. They include Randall Parks of Edensburg and Mrs. C. E. Arble of Mahoningtown.

Three resignations were accepted by the school board, including Marthat Zoniser, Helen McCurley and Belle Kyle. Another teacher will be elected at a later date to fill the third vacancy.

Rev. W. A. Thornton Will Speak Sunday

Rev. William A. Thornton, minister of Simpson Methodist church, Erie, will speak Sunday morning, August 18, at Epworth Methodist church during the absence of the pastor, Rev. George R. D. Braun, who is on vacation. Members and friends of Epworth church will be happy to welcome back Rev. Thornton to this pulpit, especially since he was formerly minister of that church. The service begins at 11 o'clock.

MacArthur Gives Jap Farmer Right To Purchase Land

First Step Toward Freeing Jap Farmer From Serfdom In Soil Tilling

TOKYO, Aug. 15.—(INS)—General MacArthur gave his enthusiastic approval today to land reform legislation drafted by the Japanese cabinet with the aim of freeing an estimated two million Japanese tenant farmers from virtual serfdom and breaking up vast feudal estates.

In giving his approval to the plan, MacArthur spoke of the "long-standing poverty and insecurity of the farmers of Japan" and added "it is gratifying that the present government has shown the courage and determination to strike at the roots of the archaic landlord system."

Will Control Rents

The proposed legislation offers tenant farmers the opportunity to buy land they till in 30-year installments and restricts the amount of acreage a man may own or rent out for cultivation.

It was estimated that establishment of the program will take two years. In making its plans, the cabinet followed closely recommendations offered by both General MacArthur's natural resources section and the four-power Allied control council for Japan.

The cabinet proposed to restrict to 2.45 acres the amount of land any owner may rent out for tenant farming. Working farmers will be restricted to 7.35 acres on the islands of Honshu, Kyushu and Shikoku and to 29.40 acres on less-populated Hokkaido.

Tenant farming will not be abolished by the program but rents will not be permitted to exceed 25 per cent of the crop yield on rice paddy land and 15 per cent of the yield on upland acreage.

The program calls for a standard price on all surplus acreage and payments of subsidies to present owners who are forced to sell.

Rural land commissions will be set up as units of each local government to administer the legislation.

"SALADA" ICED TEA

Apparently Wanted Shot In The Arm

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Police and federal agents have joined in a search for what was believed a well-organized gang of thieves who methodically robbed an estimated 25,000 morphine tablets from four Pittsburgh hospitals.

Police, in turning the crime one of the greatest narcotic thefts in the city's history, said the tablets were valued at thousands of dollars.

The thieves gained admittance to the hospital supply rooms by jimmying windows either late last night or early this morning, according to police.

One hospital reported the gang passed up money and other narcotics and took only morphine.

A police narcotic expert said drug addicts used morphine more than any other drug. He disclosed that when purchased legally, morphine sells at $3 to $7 an ounce and that bootleg circles peddle the drug from $75 to $125 an ounce in diluted form.

6,626 TREATED

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The State Health Department reported today that 6,626 patients were treated at the Commonwealth's three tuberculosis sanatoria during the two years ended May 31.

The institutions are located at Mt. Alto in Franklin County, Cresson, Cambria County, and Hamburg, Berks County.

It is estimated that a little more than two million persons reach the voting age of 21 each year.

TRAFFIC DEATHS

TOTAL 813 PERSONS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The state revenue department reported Wednesday that 813 persons were killed in traffic accidents during the first half of 1946, a 60 per cent increase compared with the same period last year. The department pointed out that in the same period of 1941, the last pre-war year, 952 persons lost their lives in highway accidents. During the six-month period last year 506 persons were fatally injured.

The department said 483 casualties were reported in rural areas while 330 others were listed in urban sections. Speed and reckless driving were blamed in most cases, it was added.

FOR WANT OF A NAIL. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 15.—(INS)—An Indianapolis resident has encountered a formidable bottleneck in his house building plans. He can't find a front door anywhere.

Because he has no door, he can't lock the house. Because he can't lock the house, the plumbers won't put in any plumbing. It's easy for a crook to rip it out and take away. Because the plumbing isn't in, the plasterers won't finish the walls.

Because the plasterers can't operate, the paper hangers and painters can't decorate the house. Because the wall paper and paint are missing, the floor finishers won't finish the floors.

RULE OUT BINGO

IN LOCK HAVEN, PA.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Aug. 13.—(INS)—Bad news for bingo players was announced Wednesday by Lock Haven Solicitor Henry M. Hipple. He ruled that bingo was gambling and Mayor E. F. Heffner immediately appealed to organizations to abandon bingo games "or else." The mayor pointed out that gambling by parents had a bad effect on children, especially in Lock Haven where juvenile delinquency was increasing.

Permanent Card System Planned For Local Schools

Permanent card index system for the schools of the New Castle district was approved at the meeting of the board Wednesday evening, and the contract for 17 cabinets and 15,000 cards was awarded to the Castle Stationery company of this city at a cost of $1570.95.

At the same time it was decided to purchase two projectors, one for Magill and one for the Highland schools, at a total cost of $398.80 from Kurtz Brothers, Clearfield, Pa.

Ninety-five per cent of American families include canned goods in their diet regularly.

TAXPAYER TAKES ACTION AGAINST STRIKE SETTLEMENT

McKEESPORT, Pa., Aug. 15.—(INS)—A recent McKeesport employees' walkout against the city government today led a lone taxpayer to take action against the strike settlement authorized by city council.

The taxpayer, Miles F. Rupert, filed a bill of equity in common pleas court asking for an injunction restraining city officials from paying wage increases to the strikers.

City council recently authorized a $28,000 additional appropriation to cover an eight cent wage boost for hourly workers and a $15 per month increase for daily and salaried employees.

In his complaint, Rupert claimed the council had no legal authority to authorize such an appropriation.

Well-Paid Post In Employment Bureau
Is Now Left Vacant

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The resignation today of Frank L. Shallow, of Philadelphia, left a $9000 a year vacancy in the post of executive director of the state bureau of employment and unemployment compensation.

Shallow was scheduled to be sworn into office today at Philadelphia as solicitor for Sheriff Austin Meehan. The retiring director said he would receive $5000 annually for part-time duties.

He was appointed to head the bureau November 10, 1941 by ex-Gov. Arthur H. James.

Shallow sent his resignation, effective today, to Gov. Edward Martin early this week. The governor said he had not considered a successor.

Shallow resides at 3621 Hamilton street in Philadelphia.

Accidental Gun Discharge Fatal

BARBOURVILLE, W. Va., Aug. 15.—(INS)—West Virginia state police today said that an accidental discharge of a shotgun killed 14-year-old Delora Mae Wagner and wounded Buddy Mills, 11.

A brother of the wounded youth, Richard, eight, was questioned by police and said he pulled the trigger while the two were eating breakfast. Richard Mills said that he thought the gun was unloaded.

EXONERATED ON TAX
Members of the New Castle district school board Wednesday unanimously approved the resolution exempting the city from paying school taxes on the Richard F. Dana property, North Jefferson street, purchased to build a new city building.

Suicide Rumor Surprises Wife

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 15.—(INS)—Charles Smeltz, of Lancaster, had the answer today to the problem of finding a wife after she leaves home following a spat.

Just fake her suicide—even if you wait six months.

When the 45-year-old factory worker's wife, Carrie, left Smeltz' bed and board last February he asked police to locate her but the search was fruitless.

He waited six months and then decided to put a little pep into the proceedings.

He took some clothes his wife had left at home, wrote a note which read "I'm going to end it all and drown myself," put the bundle on the bank of Conestoga creek and retired to wait results.

Sure enough, his 43-year-old wife was found by police in a Middletown, Pa., restaurant working as a waitress.

She was "amazed" to learn of the search and police were looking very hard at Smeltz. It seems there is no penalty for faking a suicide.

Iron Club To Observe
Feast Of St. Rocco

Feast of Saint Rocco will be observed for the sixth consecutive year by the Iron club of Elliotts Steel company on Friday, August 16, at 7 p. m. at a high mass in St. Joseph's church.

Committees on arrangements are as follows: honorary chairman, John Peluso; general chairman, Frank Frasso; committee man, Patsy Natale, Tony Mitolo and George Bleach.

On Sunday, August 18, at 5 p. m., the club will have their dinner prepared by the chef at the Peluso camp. Refreshments will be served following the dinner with sporting events and prizes.

The Iron club will also have a basket picnic on August 25 at the Peluso camp.

Five Men Missing As Boats Capsize Off Long Island

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 15.—(INS)—Five men still were missing today as the result of the capsizing of three rowboats carrying 17 campers, all men, in Long Island Sound just north of Pleasure Beach last night.

Twelve men were rescued or managed to reach shore themselves.

The tragedy occurred about 11 o'clock. The men were returning from a camping trip on a small nearby island. Each of the three boats was powered by an outboard motor.

Suddenly the lead boat was turned over by a high wave. The other two boats went to the rescue but they, too, capsized when the men in the water, fully clothed, attempted to pull themselves aboard.

The men still missing were all of Bridgeport. They are Armand Riccio, 27, Carl Riccio, 28, Daniel Volosin, 25, John Fedak, 37, and Stanley Strazenski, age unknown.

Elimination Tests At Cascade Pool

Children attending the junior life-saving course at the Cascade Park pool went through an elimination session this morning.

After checking in 56 boys and girls, the instructors arranged them in formation where they were given calisthenics. Using the five foot and ten foot pools the junior life-savers began a 220-yard elimination swim. Of the 56 trying, only one was unable to qualify.

Following the endurance trials, the students were tested on their strokes, with those unable to use the scissor-kick, being given instructions by Art Alexander.

Instructions on strokes will continue tomorrow, followed by a life-saving class on Saturday.

COMB PITTSBURGH UNDERWORLD DIVES FOR DRUG THIEVES

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Police and federal agents kept a close check on Pittsburgh's underworld haunts today in the hope of finding a clue that may lead to the arrest of the well-organized gang of thieves who stole an estimated $20,000 worth of morphine from four Pittsburgh hospitals.

Police said thousands of morphine tablets were stolen in the city's greatest narcotic theft and that they probably will be peddled in the dope underworld at $75 to $125 an ounce.

One hospital reported that its entire supply of the drug was stolen in yesterday's raid.

Air Mail Rates To Be Reduced

Truman Signs Bill Reducing Rate To Five Cents Per Ounce October 1

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—President Truman today approved legislation reducing the domestic air mail rate from eight cents to five cents an ounce.

The new rate becomes effective Oct. 1, and is applicable to all United States territories and possessions.

Immediately after President Truman signed the bill, Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan issued a regulation reducing the airmail rate to members of the armed forces stationed in foreign countries from six cents a half ounce to five cents a full ounce.

Single Rate
The post office department described the new law and regulations as establishing a single U. S. flag five-cent an ounce airmail rate.

To illustrate the effect of the new five-cent charge, the present airmail rate between United States and the Canal Zone is ten cents; Canton Island, 25 cents; Guam, 35 cents; Hawaii, 15 cents, all one-half ounce.

Also existing airmail postage between Puerto Rico and Guam, for example, is 43 cents a half ounce and between Guam and the Canal Zone, 45 cents a half ounce.

Between U. S. possessions the rate will now also be five cents an ounce.

A post office official said reductions in rates for airmail will range as high as 85 cents an ounce.

He declared that the reduced domestic rate "will bring an unprecedented airmail volume" and added that an active promotion of airmail is planned.

LAY OUT STRIPS IN LATE SUMMER

Most Lawrence county farmers who change from field to contour-strip operations to control erosion make the change either in the spring or fall.

Starting in the spring with corn strips in sod necessitates holding intervening sod strips still another year or avoid adjoining strips of corn and oats, with consequent exposure to washing. A spring start also means that if production is to be balanced, extra corn acreage must be found elsewhere.

In late summer strips can be laid out in sod scheduled for corn the next spring. Alternate strips are plowed and sown to wheat or winter barley and seeded down the next spring when intervening strips go into corn. By that time the winter grain will be well enough advanced to retard washing.

The following year alternate strips will be in oats (or wheat) and hay, and the strip-cropping rotation established.

A fall start may give more wheat than usual, but wheat is the crop most easily sown and harvested in extra amounts. Or, if winter barley can be grown, the parley grain can be substituted for corn in the feeding ration. This makes any reduced corn acreage less of a handicap.

To assure a good catch of clover in wheat on sod land, use proper amounts of lime and fertilizer, with perhaps a top-dressing of manure in the winter. Early plowing and thorough fitting will be factors in producing a good crop of winter grain on sod.

Farmers desiring assistance in starting contour-strip layouts can get personal help from their Agricultural Extension Service, 206 Post Office building, New Castle.

Veteran Brands G.I.'s Behavior In German Zone

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—(INS)—A Massachusetts ex-G.I. returning from Germany on Wednesday denounced the behavior of U. S. occupation troops as "nauseating".

Victor F. D'Orazio, of Haverhill, Mass., a veteran of four years service in the navy, spent seven months in Bremerhaven as a representative of a New York financial concern.

"The only difference between Germany under the American army of occupation and under Hitler," he said, "is that there are no concentration camps."

D'Orazio said it has become necessary to issue armbands to American women to keep them from being insulted on the streets by American soldiers as were German women.

He blamed the present conditions on the assigning of young, newly drafted G.I.s to the occupation zone. "They're just a lot of kids with no experience in active fighting," D'Orazio said. "Now they're exulting in their power over a civilian population. Instead of teaching the Germans democracy they're teaching them to hate the very word 'American'."

Fears Mead Committee Builds False Ideas

WASHINGTON, N. C., Aug. 15.—(INS)—Under Secretary of War Royall expressed fear today that the Mead committee investigation of the Garsson munitions empire played into the hands of "ill-wishers," some in the United States.

Royall voiced this apprehension in a lengthy address covering the senate committee's war profits probe during which charges were made that 42 mortar shells resulted in the deaths of an undisclosed number of American soldiers.

Speaking before the American Legion victory day observance, Royall declared:

"There are those in the world today—I am sure there are some in our own borders—who would rejoice if the American people lost faith in themselves and their leaders. They would rejoice, because they would know that there is no quicker or surer way to destroy this nation.

Ill Wishers

"The American people may be playing into the hands of these ill-wishers. May I give as an example the recent hearings before the Mead committee—the investigation of certain war contracts."

Royall said his concern was that the conclusion might be reached by many as a result of the widely-publicized case that "wastefulness, carelessness and even dishonesty were common occurrences in the procurement of war materials."

The undersecretary emphasized that this would be no fault of the committee.

Royall revealed that the war department is "issuing additional instruction" to make clear that close association—social and otherwise—between army officers and contractors, as brought to light in the Mead investigation "must not take place."

He asserted that "it is the war department's view that the type of close relationship indicated in this case should not be countenanced."

Maj. Gen. William Porter, wartime chemical warfare service head and Alden Waitt, now in charge of that war department branch which negotiated with the Garsson combine, were criticized in this regard. Royall declared that there is other evidence before committee which indicated that the war department "may have been at fault."

U. S. To Give Aid For Construction Of New Hospitals

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The United States has launched a far-reaching federal aid hospital construction program as President Truman signed legislation Tuesday making available to the states 378 million dollars in government funds over the next five years.

Congress has already appropriated two million, 350 thousand dollars to start off the program, the money to be used to assist the states in making the necessary surveys and plans.

Beginning with the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, and for four fiscal years thereafter, the U. S. surgeon general is authorized to distribute to the states on the basis of population and need 75 million dollars annually for hospitals.

In signing the measure, the President said that he is "in full accord" with the objectives of assisting the states in construction of necessary hospital facilities.

However, the President raised an objection to one provision of the bill which he said "is contrary to sound principles of administration in that it sets up a council composed of individuals who are not to be full time officials of the government and authorizes this council not only to advise the surgeon general but to exercise a veto power over certain of his actions."

Naval Reservists Will Take Cruise

Six Hundred Enlisted Men And 39 Officers From District Will Board Ship

Pittsburgh district Naval Reservists will take their first post-war cruise in October.

Six hundred enlisted men and 39 officers of the Naval Reserve will participate in a two-week cruise aboard the new heavy cruiser, U. S. S. Oregon City, from October 6, through October 19, 1946, under plans announced this week by Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, U. S. N., chief of naval operations.

The cruise will be available to Naval Reservists from the Pittsburgh district, under assigned quotas, according to Commander Gerard H. Nickerson, U. S. N. R., administrative officer, U. S. Naval Organized Reserve, here.

All personnel making the cruise will be given full pay allowances and will be furnished transportation.

Murray Takes Lead On Bonus

State Commander Of American Legion Will Invite Other Vet Leaders To Conference

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—State American Legion Commander James P. Murray announced today he would invite commanders of all veterans organizations to confer with Gov. Edward Martin's financial advisors in an effort to draft a plan for financing a soldiers' bonus.

He said the invitation would be extended in the form of a resolution scheduled to be adopted by Legionnaires during their annual convention next week in Philadelphia.

Murray's announcement followed the governor's invitation to veterans to draft a method for financing a bonus.

The word button comes from the French word "bouton" which means something to be pushed out.

Judge John G. Lamoree conducted a brief court session on Wednesday morning, when several petitions involving legal sanction were presented and acted upon.

COUNTY GETS WINDFALL

Lawrence County received a windfall today, which will lighten the tax burden slightly. Three railroads were ordered by the public utilities commission to pay Lawrence County the sum of $5,026.30 for property damages incurred in the abolition of four grade crossings near Edensburg, ten years ago.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad were each ordered to pay $2,010.52, while the Pennsylvania Railroad was directed to pay the sum of $1,005.26.

ONE DIVORCE APPLICATION

The divorce business appeared a little slower today, only one application being recorded. This was the petition of Paul R. Kemper vs. Bessie V. Kemper, charging desertion. They were married January 28, 1946, in Butler. Mr. Kemper's address is given as Scott township, and Mrs. Kemper's, 220 Park street, Butler, Pa.

Workers Ask For Conference About Viscose Walk-Out

Union Heads At Meadville Strike Want Wages 'Comparable To Other Plants'

MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 15.—(INS)—The first indication of a possible settlement of the seven-week strike at the American Viscose corporation's Meadville plant came today when union representatives announced they were seeking a meeting with company officials.

Wesley Cook, assistant director of the rayon division of the CIO-Textile Workers Union of America, said he had sent the company a telegram on a possible meeting and was awaiting a reply.

He said he hopes to "discuss establishment of rates that compare with those paid by the company at other plants for comparable work."

In Wilmington, Del., Fred A. Kraft, director of industrial relations for the corporation, announced late last night that he had received Cook's telegram, adding:

"The company, however, is perfectly willing to meet at any time with responsible union officials."

Approximately 2000 workers have been idled by the walkout. Company officials reported that the six other Viscose plants in Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia were not involved in the labor dispute.

Democrats Hear Allegheny Leader Urge Registration

Congressional Candidate Also Talks At Court House Meeting Wednesday

Addressing a group of 40 or 45 Democratic committeemen and party workers in the court house Wednesday evening, Bernard Goodwin, county treasurer of Allegheny county, stressed the need of registration and called on every party member to take a more active interest in getting his friends and neighbors registered.

Mr. Goodwin's talk was preceded by a short speech by Sam Neff, Democratic candidate for Congress from this district, who stated that the liberals have their backs to the wall in this election, and that unless they win the progress of liberalism will be set back a generation.

"With America and the world making such rapid material progress, we cannot afford to be held back like that," the candidate continued. He urged registration of the younger people because "if youth votes, it will be liberal."

The meeting was called by the Democratic county committee under the chairmanship of John B. Shaw. J. Garfield Davis, chairman of the registration drive, was in charge of the meeting and led a question-and-answer forum before the talks.

Good Taste
By Francine Markel

"I have met a new boy who has me guessing. He is most attentive, proclaims himself sincere, is very affectionate, but yet I have a feeling that he is not ready to become too involved. How can I tell whether his intentions are as honorable as I hope they are?"

Answer: The fact that you have grave doubts indicates that you have reasons for having them. There must be something about him that makes him untrustworthy in your eyes.

Assume the attitude of being just as much on guard as he appears to be. Listen to his "line," perhaps with repressed attention; but take it with a grain of salt. You never know whether a man's intentions are strictly honorable until he has definitely proposed marriage and sealed the bargain with an engagement ring. So, until then, take nothing for granted.

Treat him as a good friend and pal, but one on whom you have no claim. Be sparing with your affections. For after all, he may be merely a philanderer who is trying his luck and taking his fun wherever he can find it. While this affair is in its present status, you would make a grave mistake by assuming too much.

After a man has made his sixth date, a certain type of girl may think they are practically engaged and may give him all the privileges of an engaged man. Then it he mysteriously drops her for a new love, she will feel degraded and cheapened. Don't let this happen to you. Play safe! Keep him guessing!

Let him know you are interested in his attentions, but don't be over-zealous or possessive. Control your emotions. Remember that in this age a man will take what he can get but will seldom return to marry any girl who has put a cheap price on her caresses.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelopes.

CRIME WAVE
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The post-war crime wave that has increased in tempo since the end of the war does not receive its impetus from the returning veteran, according to Lee Boardman of the Philadelphia Bureau of the F. B. I.,

In Tanganyika, Africa, government officials were unable to stop natives from stealing the airport war socks to make wearing apparel until they got the idea of making the wind guides of the same pattern as of cloth worn by convicts.

Forget Something? Many Bus Riders Do

False Teeth, Lard, Umbrellas, All Of Them Are Found On Buses

New Castle citizens, on the whole, are rated as having fairly good memories, but one group of people about the city, who contribute to keeping the average much lower than it is, are the bus riders.

An inquiring reporter thought perhaps he would delve into the situation and see just what things folks left on the buses, so he hurried down to the bus garage on Taylor street and had a chat with H. L. Shoaff who has charge of dispatching the buses and custodian of items that are inadvertently left on the vehicles.

Surprised, is putting it mildly, when it was brought to light some of the things citizens of this city leave on the bus seat and never thinking of them until they perhaps retired at night. Anything from lard to a card for a pair of nylon stockings were among the stray items turned in by the bus drivers to Mr. Shoaff.

Deposits Teeth
One of the most amusing and perhaps pathetic incidents occurred on one of the buses some time ago, when a gentleman got on the bus and calmly deposited his false teeth in the fare box. The anxious would be rider lamented his mistake, but nothing could be done, until the driver completed his run seven or eight hours later.

Just recently, on the Croton avenue run, someone left several pounds of lard on the bus, but there were no callers for it, evidently the loser a bit embarrassed at his absent mindedness.

Among the hundreds of items turned in annually to the Taylor street garage, include, umbrellas, gloves, purses, dinner buckets, eye glasses, blinds, groceries, meats, fruit, vegetables, shoes, dresses, lingerie, keys, bathing suits, overshoes, galoshes, towels, and many, many other items.

Mr. Shoaff stated that each of his drivers turn the items in if they find them, but in many cases, the passengers themselves find the lost articles, and instead of turning them over to the bus driver, take them home and make use of them.

Taking the bus home tomorrow? Better be sure you have all your packages before you alight from the bus.

Terminal Pay Will Come Fast

Finance Officer Says Longest Time Lag In Payment To Vets Will Be 60 Days

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Col. L. P. Chrisman, of the War Department Finance office disclosed today that the longest time lag in payment of terminal leave benefits to veterans will be 60 days.

Chrisman made this statement at a news conference where he gave additional details on administration of making terminal leave payments.

Chrisman said: "We are working under a first come, first served policy. Payments will be made as soon as humanly possible. The longest time lag between filing of application and receipt of payment will be about 60 days."

Chrisman revealed that metropolitan post offices will receive forms which must be filled out to collect accumulated leave before those in rural areas.

Available Soon
In response to a question, the colonel admitted that this would give the advantage to those eligible in the larger cities for the payments.

He estimated that the blanks would be available to everybody concerned by mid-September. The forms were said to be leaving the government printing office now at the rate of three million a day.

Chrisman said that additional personnel is being hired to carry out administrative work involved under the terminal leave pay act recently signed into law by President Truman. In September an additional 3,500 persons are expected to be put on government payrolls for this purpose.

HOUSING PROBLEM

TOPEKA, Kans., Aug. 15.—(INS)—Lt. Col. James W. Hill, commanding officer of the Kansas District of the organized reserves, finally found a house for his family after a three-month search. The same day he received military orders transferring him to Omaha.

Dodgers Defeat Giants Twice And Continue League Lead

Torrid Race In National League Is Interesting

Cardinals Edge Chicago Cubs To Remain Serious Threats To Brooklyn

PIRATES ANNEX FIFTH STRAIGHT

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—It may be true, as the old timers insist, that today we have no daring base runners like Ty Cobb, home run hitters like Babe Ruth or colorful characters like Rube Waddell.

But even the most stubborn old timer must admit we have at least some pretty fair imitations of the originals in Pete Reiser of the Dodgers, Ted Williams of the Red Sox and Bobo Newson of the Senators. Reiser has already out-Cobbed Cobb in at least one respect. Pete has stolen home six times this year and that is two more than the Georgia Peach ever stole in a whole year.

Dodgers Win Two
Pete got away with his sixth theft of the plate yesterday afternoon while the Dodgers were plastering the Giants, 8 to 4. The Dodgers then staged another game with the Giants at night and won 2 to 1, behind Joe Hatten's four-hit pitching, to pick up another half game on the Cardinals.

That innovation—for Brooklyn—of the day and night games drew a total of 37,224 through the turnstiles and ran the Dodgers' home attendance to a new high at 1,214,903 with 23 more games to go at home.

Cards Defeat Cubs
The Cards hopped on Hank Borowy to beat the Cubs 6-4 and give Howie Poller his 14th decision of the year.
The Braves with their eye on third place, again nosed out the Phils, 5 to 4.
The Pirates, who got only five hits off Rookie Bob Malloy, nevertheless managed to edge the Reds, 3 to 2. It was the Pirates' fifth straight victory and the Reds' ninth straight defeat.

Red Sox Win
In the American, the Red Sox topped the Athletics 3-1, with Tex Hughson giving only four hits for his 13th victory.
This was matched by Floyd Beving of the Yanks who turned in a five-hitter for his 13th decision as the Yanks trimmed the Senators, 4 to 1.
The Indians had to travel 12 miles to get a 6-5 decision over Fred Hutchinson and the Tigers.

What with Hope, Crosby, MacPhail, Veeck and that sterling Thesplan of Flatbush, Leo Durocher, we may not have much else to write about in baseball, but we'll have showmanship. One feels sort of sorry for Jack Benny and Fred Allen.

SIX O'CLOCK, Friday evening, will find two of Lawrence County's baseball heroes of yesterday opposed to each other, managerially, at Washington field. They are Paul McCullough, present manager of the Youngstown East Side Civics and Sheriff Frank Coen. Both won laurels in the pitching box. Paul, and "Jewie" both have played minor league baseball and, for a time, McCullough with the American League Senators. One of the Coen's feats was to set down the Homestead Grays. If recollection runs true, he also pitched against, and beat the Pirates. McCullough intends to start either Maloney or Lozner on the mound. Coen will probably send Fred Shaffer, ex-minor leaguer, to the hill. Should the starting pitchers fail, fans can expect McCullough and Coen to rub knicks out of their right arms and take over. Coen has "made no bones" about reinforcing the Legion team.

Russ McBride, ex-marine, and a Pennsylvania Power Company employee, is on vacation. Bill Philpitt, city hall janitor, is through vacationing for the year. He visited Detroit and watched the Bengals in four games. . . . Jimmie McGivern, Jr., who was with the 190th F. A. is as debonair as ever.

Henry Jones and Bill Francis took in Monday night's tussling at Youngstown. . . . Trotts and paces at the Butler track will end Friday afternoon. Harness horse racing has made a brilliant come-back this season. . . . Jake McCracken, Harlansburg, didn't have time to fish yesterday. He was thrashing. . . . In Frank Ward's vindictive column Here and There finds something worthwhile as follows: "I hate the guys who make them cringe and minimize the other guys whose enterprise has made them shine above the guys who cringe," which was penned by Alexander Animators.

Rich Gregory, former lightweight, is holding boxing shows at Butler and packing 'em in. . . . State police have faith in this column because Patrolman John Hardy reports that, when they moved to Oak and Raymond streets, Shep, a dog which looks like a shepherd but isn't full Shepherd, apparently didn't like his new quarters and left. He is mostly brown with a white ring around his neck and white on his chest and answers to the name Shep.

Jorge Pasquel of the Mexican League, is said to be angling for Bob Feller and Ted Williams. . . . One hundred seventy-five attended the Beaver Falls Sportsmen's Association picnic outing in Chippewa township.

Beaver County, . . . Pat Hennessy reports he enjoyed the beef as he never enjoyed any sandwich at the Eagles cutting which was a big success recently at El Rio. . . . Candidates for the Beaver Falls high meet Wednesday. The New Johnson Bronze. . . .

Brighton high gridders will report August 16. . . . If Jersey Joe Walcott should beat Tommy Gomez, Friday night in New York, he may draw Mike Jacobs' consideration for a whack at Joe Louis' crown next year. . . . Johnny Corbett, Youngstown referee, performs a "Astarte Costello". He dances in and when he orders 'em to break, he whoops like Costello.

Fizzle Fazzone, Carl Cialella, erstwhile boxer, Tom Boyle, Frankie Ross, once a rugged lightweight, Joe Chilli, former baseballer, his brother, Bill, an ex-catcher, John Moore, Willis McMullen, Assemblyman James C. Brice, Frank Marchia, Bar Terry and Tommy Jones, both whom fought as lightweight topnotchers, in their day, were a few of the patrons at the Berkovich vs. Baxter battle. . . . Having written recently about turtles, Here and There was surprised today when Bud Fleeger, marine of 1917, now a city bluecoat, presented Here and There with a 12-pounder which he caught on a minnow in the Allegheny river. . . . Doing a comeback: The street bootblack. They're to be seen along the city's main stem. Let 'em shine 'em up. Anytime a youngster carries a wooden box he is progressive. Many bootblacks and newspaper carrier of yesterday are our leaders of today.

S. Gray was on the hill for the Elks and limited the Wampum club to six hits. Pozzuto did the hurting for the losers and was combed for 16 blows. Session and Hammock led the Elks' attack with four and three hits, respectively.

Chick Davies Will Help Birch Run Pittsburgh Entry In Pro League

Birch, a native of Homestead, Pa., starred for four years with the Dukes and during his tenure the team lost only four games. In 1939, he became coach of Homestead High school and mentored his scholastics to a state championship.

Later he joined the famed New York Celtics and then the Fort Wayne Zollers in the National league.

Last season he was a playing manager of Youngstown in the National Pro loop and remained in the Steel Town this summer to coach its Mid-Atlantic baseball team.

Birch will have the advisory assistance of Chick Davies, the nationally-famous Duquesne coach. Chick will spend his spare time smoothing out the workings of the new quintet.

Phil Bridenbaugh Asks All 1946 Candidates To Meet At Stadium At 7 P. M.

Philip H. Bridenbaugh, head football coach at New Castle high school, has called a meeting of all 1946 candidates for 7 o'clock Friday evening at the stadium.

New Castle High footballers are slated to start workouts at the stadium Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The annual trek to camp will be on Thursday morning. Just who goes to camp depends a lot on the boys themselves and their willingness to work in the stadium rehearsals.

Vets Report Early
Bridenbaugh has asked that all veterans from last year report early Friday evening as equipment is being issued and he wants the hold-overs taken care of first.

New Castle will have two weeks to get ready for the opening night battle Friday, September 6, with the strong Erie East High squad.

All young men who intend to try out for the team this year are asked to be at the stadium Friday evening at 7 o'clock sharp. It has been suggested that all young men bring for the team start getting in shape by running and getting the limbs loosened up.

Senior Golfers Enjoy Golf And Turkey Dinner

Over 100 Men, Many From Out Of Town, Take Part In Seventh Annual Event

TUCKER HOCKMAN MEDALIST WITH 72

Another Senior Golf day has passed into history, but the events of the seventh annual tourney staged Wednesday at Castle Hills golf course and the turkey dinner that followed at the First Presbyterian church will live long in the memories of over 100 men who attended.

It was a perfect day from start to finish. The weatherman joined in the occasion by providing a warm sunny day that made the seniors feel good. There was considerable jollying on the course, and at the dinner everybody had a grand time. Everybody got a prize of some kind, donated by the merchants of New Castle and surrounding towns.

E. E. McGill, Toastmaster. When the men had assembled at the church following a delightful afternoon on the links, they found the Helene society of the church ready with a sumptuous turkey dinner. Rev. Frank Stevenson, of Dawson, Pa., offered the invocation. Louis B. Round then took over as pep song leader with Emil Branstetter at the piano.

E. E. McGill, president of the Senior day committee, acted as toastmaster and after a few words of welcome to the senior golfers from New Castle and the surrounding towns, called on William M. Nunn, who gave a touching eulogy to two departed senior golf members, the late Hon. Fred L. Rentz of the New Castle News, and Attorney Richard Dana, and there were few dry eyes in the large assemblage crowd.

Prize Distributed
Following the serving of the dinner Mont Magill, on behalf of the committee and the Sporting Goods store, made a brief talk and then presented William M. Nunn with a handsome golf bag in appreciation of his two holes-in-one since last Senior day. Mr. Nunn responded with a short thank-you.

At this point the prize committee went into action and with Johnny Hodgie, Dick Hitchcock, Paul Hurl and Bugs' Walther assisting, gave out the awards and then table prizes to everybody in a period of much merriment as the men stepped up to get their prizes.

Attorney White Gets Bond
The grand prize of the evening, a $25.00 war bond, went to Attorney Robert M. White for winning the blind baggy contest with an 80 net score. There were three with 80 cards and White was luckiest on the draw—the others being F. R. Patterson and Attorney R. L. Wallace, both of whom received golf balls.

Other prizes were distributed as follows: Lowest 18-hole score for the day went to the veteran Tucker Hockman with his par 72 round; highest 18-hole card, J. G. Leslie, lowest number of putts, Dr. Jesse Cooper; highest number of putts, Wally Rugh; longest drive on No. 9 hole, M. K. Gilliland; drive nearest cup on 2, J. W. Boyd; nearest to cup on 7, James Deegan; nearest to cup on 11, Lou Lautenslager; nearest to cup on second shot on No. 4 hole, Dave Aston; nearest to cup on second shot on No. 13 hole, Anthony J. Many Picking Wampum Legion To Cop Pennant

Wardman Club Has Good Chance To End Up With Bunting In County League Series

WAMPUM, Aug. 15.—This peaceful little community on the banks of the Beaver takes its sports seriously, and the townfolk will be satisfied with nothing less than the championship when they send their baseball team into the County League series Friday.

Just as they enthusiastically back their high school basketball teams, the Wampum residents are 100% behind their diamond aces and will stand behind them down to the last pit-out.

Manager "Bud" Wardman, the slim pilot of the Legion, did a good job with his squad this season, keeping them well up in the first division, and guiding them into the second place slot in the final standings. They finished with a record of 30 wins and 10 losses, trailing the Ellwood Elks in percentage points, who won 30 and lost seven.

Wardman heads pitchers. When he isn't running the team from the bench, Wardman is on the hill pitching and has one of the best records in the loop for the season, accounting for eight wins, while losing only one contest. Besides the Legion pilot there are such tried and true slab aces as Frank Fowell, Joe Donbeck, veteran Joe Hainberger, Carmen Leopardo and Chuck Hauser.

The infield is fast and good with the willow. Leopardo does most of the catching when he isn't making an appearance on the mound. Johnny Marshall anchors the initial sack. Dale Brown is the key-stone in the infield. Nickie Palagallo, ex-high school basketballer, roams at short and Coy Craine, the colored flash, is the hot corner man. This primary defense is as good as any in the circuit.

Outfield Strong

The outfield of Joe Powell, Emil Fontana and Johnny Ippolito is solid on defense and timely with the hit. Fontana is one of the league's most feared sluggers.

The Legion nine is favored to take the New Galilee "Hot Tots" into camp in the first round tilt, and then they meet the winner of the Ellwood Elks-Bessemer series.

Championships have become a habit in this town and with the locals it is one habit they don't mean to break.

West Pittsburg Swamps Legion

West Pittsburg's Gas House Gang thumped the American Legion team 22 to 7 last night in an exhibition game at Washington field, with Palako outpitching Fox and Russo. Albert Markey with two homers, a triple and two singles led the West Pittsburgers at bat, with Semansky getting four hits and W. Alee and J. Markey hitting homers. For the Legion "Huck" Davies hit a homer. The Legion forfeited to West Pittsburg 1 to 0 in the regulation game for lack of players.

There is something peculiarly fitting about "The Groaner" becoming part owner of the Pirates. Poor Bill Benswanger and Frank Frisch have been groaning over 'em for years.

in behalf of Servo who is "doing his part for the service men."

Servo Needs Action

We'll explained that these service bouts had no great bearing on the case at issue before the commission, but he merely brought them up to make a point of the fact that the commission seems determined to stop Servo from making any money.

We'll added:

"My fellow needs a fight to get sharp for Robinson, but three times they have turned me down. I now want to know why they turn me down and let Robinson box."

We'll threatened to get downright ornery about the thing and defy the commission by taking a match anyway. After that Servo would show up for the Robinson bout and what could the commission do about it?

The commission could suspend Servo after the Robinson match and throw him out of action again.

That would cost some more purses during his period of idleness.

We'll finally hung up and dashed for his train with the situation right where it was when he started talking.

Champions who now have little of anything of the great fortunes they made in the ring... Primo Carner a here for a wrestling tour... Paul Berlenbach, brewery work... Tony Canzoneri, night club entertainer... Joe Lynch, postmaster in tiny town upstate...

City 'Play Day' To Close Summer Program Of Fun

All-Day Activities Are Scheduled At Gaston
Park As Climax Of Season

New Castle's summer play-ground program, which has been in operation for 12 weeks, will officially close Thursday, Aug. 22, at Gaston Park, according to an announcement from the city's recreation board.

On this day the children of all city playgrounds will go to Gaston Park where they will enjoy each other's companionship in the all-day "play day". Activities will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and continue through the day with championship play-offs in the midget softball league, junior softball league, horseshoes, junior boys' volleyball, senior boys' volleyball, girls' volleyball, junior checkers, senior checkers, jacks, hopscotch, tennis and badminton.

Younger Kids Program
A treasure hunt has been arranged for the younger children, along with contests, handicraft, informal games and a story hour. The services of two competent young magicians have been secured to entertain this younger group between one and two o'clock. All those attending are asked to bring their lunches so that no time will be lost in starting the afternoon program. From noon until one o'clock a treat will be served to everyone.

At the close of the day all championship emblems and leader awards will be made. The entire program will be closely supervised by the staff of playground supervisors, as Gaston Park will be the only playground in operation that day. A special bus will be run for the West Side and Shenango street children, and also the Mahoning children, the Croton children and the George Washington and Laurel avenue children.

The public is invited to go to Gaston Park on August 22 to witness the demonstration of play activities which have been sponsored on the playgrounds during the past 12 weeks.

Whiskey Rationing Extended Wednesday

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Whiskey rationing was extended Wednesday to September 28 by the State Liquor Control Board.

Consumers may purchase one fifth of a gallon of whiskey during each of two three-week rationing periods upon presentation of war ration book number three or substitute cards issued by the L. C. B. The board said the first period would begin August 19 and end September 7 while the second would start September 9.

Licenses will be restricted to 80 per cent of normal purchases, the board reported.

German War Secrets Are Now Available

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The commerce department revealed today that the secrets of Germany's wartime, shortage-inspired scientific and industrial research are available to American industry for the asking.

At the present time approximately 100 experts from United States industrial concerns and government and private laboratories are investigating German plants, mines and research centers.

In addition a like number of employees of the commerce department's technical industrial intelligence division are sifting through tons of technical papers and microfilming important and essential ones.

A department spokesman said that three and one-half billion pages of technical matter were being winnowed down to three and one-half million pages to be micro-filmed.

Under Scrutiny

The complete range of German industry, from aeronautics to textiles and utilities, has come under the scrutiny of American experts. Reports are available on such varying subjects as the substitution of acetone for petroleum in industry to the development of a jet-propelled flying-wing airplane.

The technical industrial intelligence division arranges for industry representatives to go to Germany at their own expense to study any particular phase of German activity they desire. Only conditions, other than technical requirements, are that the report be made available to all industries, not only the firm employing the representative.

The department's own representatives confine themselves to the paperwork research and micro-filming.

PLAN FOR SEALING OF ABANDONED MINES

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The state sanitary water board announced Wednesday that an extensive program of sealing abandoned coal mines will be carried out in western Pennsylvania in line with the commonwealth's pure streams drive.

Secretary of Health Harry W. West, chairman, reported that the program will embrace Clarion, Armstrong, Elk, Westmoreland and Tioga counties.

Many Cats, Dogs, Meet Their End

Many people here who have cats are getting rid of them via the cat and dog catcher, Jack Young, colored, reported today.

"Are you catching many cats?" he was asked.

"Don't have to catch 'em. People are calling me on the telephone. I go and get them," he stated.

"Do you kill 'em?"

"Yes."

"How many lives have cats got—nine?"

"I find they only have one," he stated.

"How about dogs?"

"I'm catching lots of dogs, too," he stated.

The campaign against dogs and cats resulted from an attack by a rabies-infected cat on a child.

Both canines and cats are supposed to be kept in quarantine for 100 days, according to Police Chief Robert D. Hanna.

Federal Spending Slash Will Affect Program In State

Martin Not Advised What Amount Will Be Pared From Funds Proposed For State

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Contemplated economies in government expenditures were expected today to result in reduced federal allocations for highway and airport construction in Pennsylvania.

Gov. Edward Martin said he had not been advised what amount would be pared from the funds proposed for the state but suggested that federal economy should be effected by slashing 1,000,000 employees from government payrolls.

The state's road-building program will be continued despite an anticipated slash in federal allocations, he asserted.

"We had figured on $25,000,000 in federal funds, but I don't know how much it will be reduced," Governor Martin said. "If the people of Pennsylvania want roads they will direct the legislature by petitions and letters to raise taxes."

He said reductions in airport development funds would have little effect on the state since they were largely earmarked for local developments.

The governor recommended dismissal of a million federal employees to "save us three billion dollars a year in salaries and expenses."

"An awfully good way to do it by taking a horizontal cut," Martin stated. "Take a certain percentage from all departments."

An estimated three million persons are employed at Washington.

A personnel cut wouldn't reduce efficiency, but would "help eliminate red tape," he asserted.

AFL LAUNCHING MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

IN STATE SEPT. 1

HARRISBURG, Aug. 15.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (A. F. L.) planned Wednesday to launch its 1947 union membership drive September 1.

The campaign will be directed at enrolling 450 unofficial local unions, according to President James L. McDevitt, of Philadelphia.

"It is to their interest and ours because their affiliation with us means just that much more strength behind both of us," McDevitt stated. "Most of the unions are small organizations in small communities."

Forty-nine locals had become affiliated with the P. F. L. since April 1, McDevitt announced. Last year's drive netted 102 unions, he added.

'Bum's Day' At Washington Field

For the next-to-the-last of their playground events, the youngsters of the George Washington playground came to the field dressed in battered hats, old shirts, and baggy pants to celebrate "bum's day."

Joe Lockley, dressed as "Dodo Whippersnort," took first place with his bamboo pole, tin can, and overalls, while Ken McClymonds was second as "Mickey," with a hat like an English sailor.

Joanne Cameron's dress of lace curtains was third, and Jane Ball and Edna May Cameron were fourth.

A treasure hunt has been planned for Thursday to conclude the season's special events. Playground supervisors are Marilyn Reeves and Lester Patton.

UN SECRETARY LIE STILL HAS HOPES OF NEW YORK PARLEY

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(INS)—Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, said Wednesday he still hopes the UN assembly will meet in New York on Sept. 23 despite the slow progress of the Paris peace conference.

Lie, discussing his recent one month's tour of Europe and his visits with government leaders in six countries, said he sought to impress peace conference officials and delegates with the need for avoiding another delay in the assembly meeting.

"They still have a month left to go through the peace treaties," Lie told a news conference. "I still think there is no reason to accept any conclusion now about a postponement. But I will not exclude the possibility either."

There are 80 varieties of trees on the grounds of the White House.
